Inner-city children are victims of school bias

The segregated inner-city schools of Indianapolis are smothering practically an entire generation of children who because of their economic condition and the enforced residential patterns of this city are forced to attend these schools. James C. Cummings, Jr., former newspaperman, leveled this charge Friday of last week as he spoke at the Athletic Club before a group of journalists representing the city's newspapers throughout the United States. Urban problems were discussed during the all-day session at which Indianapolis government and civic leaders gave their views of the major problems confronting the Hoosier capital.

The Indianapolis meeting was the first session of the Urban Journalism Center at Northwestern University. The program is designed to give the newsmen an accurate view of urban problems and equip them to effectively cover the fast-breaking news stories in the country's metropolitan centers.

The visiting newsmen pressed great interest in Indianapolis in that this city is not experienced racial violence. Cummings traced the progress of Indianapolis through the restaurant sit-ins and the later stand-ins of the forties, and the fight during the early fifties for integration of the city's parks and playgrounds. "The housing situation is improving, job seekers are finding it easier to gain employment, and overall things are much improved," he pointed out.

"However, this city could erupt any minute," he startled the newsmen.

"Trouble can come from a single instance of police brutality, or it could come from the fight for quality education

Suicide Victim Shoots Wife

2 DIE IN WEEKEND VIOLENCE

Woman held in stabbing death of her mate

Two persons were left dead, one by his own hand, while a third remained in critical condition Thursday at Marion County General Hospital in the wake of separate shooting incidents last weekend.

In the suicide early Saturday morning, the victim ran into a bedroom and fired a bullet into his brain just as a policeman, called to investigate the report of a shooting, entered the house, officers revealed.

In an earlier incident Friday morning police dispatched to an Eastside residence found a 56-year-old man mortally wounded as the result of a stabbing in the bedroom of the home.

In the shooting the first officer on the scene said when he entered the neat frame house at 3448 Brouss through the open front door a man, later identified as George Oldham, 41, of the Brouss Street address, darted into a nearby bedroom. Seconds later, the policeman said, he heard a shot.

On the floor in the living room the officer discovered Oldham's common-in-law wife, Irene Oldham, 32, suffering from two gunshot wounds.

Opening the bedroom door the officer found Oldham, bleeding from a gaping wound in the right side of his head. Near his right hand lay a .38-caliber revolver.

Both were rushed to General Hospital in a hastily summoned ambulance but Oldham was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

Mrs. Oldham remained in critical condition Thursday. She had been shot once in the left side. Another slug had lodged in her

Postal employees are to hear two speakers Sunday

Two speakers will address the Sunday, April 2, meeting of the National Alliance of Postal and Federal Employees at 4:30 p.m. at the Federation of Associated Clubs, 2309 N. Capitol.

They are Mrs. Doris Ward, president of the Central Branch of the NAACP, and Rozelle Boyd, Marion County Council member.

Members and friends are invited to attend.

2 Former Attucks Students Added to City's Viet Dead

Rites set Sat. for Marine, Army private

Two Negro Hoosier servicemen, Marine Lance Cpl. Frank Tunstall Jr., and Army Pfc. William E. Mallory were killed in action in Vietnam, the Defense Department stated recently.

Pfc. Mallory was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Mallory and Tunstall was the son of Mrs. Ophelia Tunstall, 2055 Yandes and Frank Tunstall Sr., of Los Angeles, Calif.

Tunstall was killed near Quang Tri Vietnam on March 19 and Mallory was killed March 21 during supportive action in Operation Junction City near the Cambodian border.

Both of the soldiers had attended Crispus Attucks High School here in the city.

Pfc. Mallory was a lifelong resident of Indianapolis and worked as a butcher for Seven to Eleven Supermarkets before enlisting in the Army in October, 1965.

Frank Tunstall was a member of the Eastside New Hope Baptist Church here in the city and had lived in Los Angeles with his father a short time prior to entering the Marines in November of 1965. He had been stationed in Vietnam for one year.

Surviving Mallory besides his parents are a sister, Mrs. Carolyn Graves and a brother Walter Mallory, both of Indianapolis. Services for Pfc. Mallory, 21, will be at 1 p.m. Saturday, April 2.

Nat'l NAACP confab set for Boston

BOSTON — The Boston Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has announced the appointment of John G. Bynoe as general chairman of the NAACP's 58th annual convention which convenes here July 10-15.

Mr. Bynoe, a board member of the Boston NAACP Branch, presently serves as Regional Program Coordinator for Civil Rights, the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. A graduate of Boston University and the Portia Law School Mr. Bynoe was chosen in 1961 as "One Outstanding Young Men of Greater Boston."

As general chairman of the convention committee, Mr. Bynoe will coordinate the activities of the various specialized committees participating in the convention which is expected to attract some 2,000 delegates and hundreds of observers.

The NAACP, founded in 1909, is the oldest and largest civil rights organization in America with more than 1,800 branches.

New group eyes improvements in Lockfield area

Major improvements needed in the Lockfield Gardens area have been spelled out by the newly-founded Lockfield Civic Organization.

The group will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the home of the president, Mrs. Mary Collins, 619 Locke, Apt. 311. All Lockfield residents are urged to attend.

Under study for the last few weeks has been the economic status of the Lockfield Gardens image. Residents in the city-owned project feel the image could be reversed if certain changes were made.

The Organization recommended: (1) There should be more men to work in the project in order to keep it cleaner—Lockfield's maintenance crew is understaffed; (2) More security officers should be hired to protect the tenants both night and day to stop vandalism and gambling being done in the open. Muggings have been reported by people visiting in Lockfield.

Mrs. Collins said the organization plans to bring these matters to the attention of the City Housing Authority.

Ex-local man named Peace Corps director

DR. JAMES H. KIRK
Peace Corps Director

Dr. James H. Kirk, a human factors scientist from Los Angeles, Calif., has been named Peace Corps deputy director in Ghana, Peace Corps Director Jack Vaughn announced recently.

Mr. Kirk, a 43-year-old native of Indianapolis, arrived this week in Accra, Ghana's capital, after completing six weeks of staff training in Washington, D.C. He is being accompanied overseas by his wife, Helga Margaret.

A deputy director, he will be the Peace Corps' No. 2 official in Ghana. More than 190 Peace Corps Volunteers now serve in the West African nation. Most of them work primarily in education.

Dr. Kirk, who holds three degrees in sociology, had been with the System Development Corporation of Santa Monica, Calif., since 1961. As a factors scientist he was chiefly involved in measuring the reactions of individuals and teams of individuals to certain types of stress, including those resulting from housing problems in large urban centers.

He joined SDC after serving on the faculty of Loyola University of Los Angeles for 10 years. At the time of his resignation from Loyola, he was associate professor and chairman of the Department of Sociology.

While employed by SDC he also lectured on intergroup conflict and prejudice in the Extension Division of the University of California and frequently addressed local university and civic groups on similar subjects.

He is a graduate of St. Louis (Missouri) University, from which he received a B.A. cum laude in 1947, an M.A. in 1949 and a Ph.D. in 1951.

He is a Fellow of the American Sociological Association and a member of the Human Factors Society, the Los Angeles Town Hall, the Los Angeles Urban League and the American Association of University Professors. He is a charter member of the St. Louis Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, a national honorary social science society.

He and his wife lived at 5531 Marburn Ave., Los Angeles. They have six children, all of Los Angeles.

Cave-in kills two workmen aiding a sewer hook-up

A cave-in at Aveco Construction Inc., 1415 Country Club Road, occurred about 9 a.m. March 26, causing two workmen to lose their lives as the walls of a muddy sewer excavation caved in on them.

The victims were John K. Reid, 34, 2621 N. Capitol, and Dewey Hicks, 38 of Zionsville. John Reid's body was about 15 feet beneath the earth's surface and was recovered at 10:50 a.m. Hicks' body, which was 9 feet deeper was recovered about 20 minutes later.

Chief investigator, Edward F. Henninger, for the Marion County coroner, said the autopsy indicated Reid had died of a broken neck and Hicks suffered a skull fracture and asphyxiation.

Rescuers stated that they thought Reid survived the cave-in in the 30 foot-deep excavation but was buried much deeper by the continuing fall of the earth.

Both men were helping on a sewer hook-up for the company. Slippery footing at the cave-in hindered the rescuers where the Wayne Township firemen were also on the scene.

Services for Dewey Hicks will be held Tuesday in Hall Funeral Home at Martin, Ky.

P. HOBSON ZEIGLER

Fall Creek Parkway YMCA has embarked on an open-door policy which will permit all children, regardless of their financial circumstances, to be served.

The new policy was announced this week by P. Hobson Zeigler, new executive secretary of the branch at Indiana avenue and West 10th street.

"Fall Creek will continue to offer the newest programs to meet the challenges and needs of today. However, we plan to return to the best days of Senate Avenue YMCA in some ways. We will not turn a boy away," Mr. Zeigler stated.

Senate YMCA was the forerunner to Fall Creek YMCA. Located at Michigan and Senate, the institution was well-known for its policy serving all boys.

The new YMCA director is not really new to Indianapolis Y work. He served as physical director and membership secretary at the Senate Avenue YMCA from 1926 to 1955, and directed membership campaigns for that agency 20 years. He returned as physical director at Fall Creek early this year and was named chief administrator in March.

Mr. Zeigler said he will attain the open door policy by raising additional money to sponsor needy boys, a work plan which will enable boys to earn memberships, and a free day during which any child can participate in activities without membership or charge.

Fridays, from 3:30 to 6 p.m., any child between 6 and 13 years of age will be admitted free.

Under the work plan, boys may pay as little as 25 cents down, and follow regular payments until their memberships are paid in full. Some boys, unable to obtain neighborhood chores will be assigned tasks

Northeast Center is pushing its progress

The program is vigorously being pushed at North East Community Center, 3306 E. 30th where Mrs. Lucy J. Blunt is director.

Mrs. Blunt is assisted by Mrs. Bernice Armstrong, Alfred Hood, and Officer James Bradley of the PAL Club.

North East Center, along with others in the city, has been working in conjunction with the Citizen's Forum headed by Mrs. Mattie Coney and Elmo Coney to promote community participation in recreational activities at the centers. The Park Department is also participating.

Mrs. Blunt and her co-workers have endeavored to promote this project by presenting a series of talent shows for both children and adults.

Rev. R. E. Hood of Gary to study in Oxford, England

NEW YORK—The Study at Christ Church College, Oxford, England, is expected to culminate in a doctor of philosophy degree for Rev. Robert E. Hood of Gary, who received a fellowship grant from the Episcopal Church Foundation.

Rev. Hood is rector of St. Augustine's Episcopal Church in Gary. He attended school in Louisville, Ky., has a B.A. degree from Ohio Wesleyan University and a S.T.B. degree from the General Theological Seminary.

A total of 11 persons were recipients through the fourth annual fellowship awards for advanced theological education during the 1967-68 academic year as announced by William A. Coolidge of Boston, chairman of the Foundation's Theological Education Committee.

Mr. Coolidge described Rev. Hood as a "brilliant student who has already embarked on an impressive career of service." He added: "His further study will make him eminently well qualified for the teaching career he plans to follow."

The Gary clergyman also has studied at the University of Chicago, Oxford University, where he was a John Whitney Fellow, and at the Free University of Berlin.

Rev. Hood was ordained to the priesthood in 1960 in the Diocese of New York and was for two years curate at St. Philip's Church in Manhattan and of the Chapel of the Intercession, Trinity parish in New York City. Since 1964 he has been rector of St. Augustine's in Gary.

A member of the board of directors of the Episcopal Society for Cultural and Racial Unity, Rev. Hood is the former chairman of the Department of So-

WE DON'T WORK FOR THE MAYOR

SO WE'RE FREE

to tell you why we're for Jim Beatty—now!

We do not work for the Mayor . . . sell to City Hall departments or rely on City Hall good will for our livelihood . . . so we are free to speak publicly as well as privately.

Jim Beatty Fought for Federal Aid for Housing in the 1965 Legislature and Won It

(Mayor Barton hasn't used it extensively. Three and a half years after his election no resident of Indianapolis has been able to move into any public housing built since 1937 (Lockefield Gardens).)

Jim Beatty Fought for Civil Rights Legislation on Open Housing and Repeal of the Anti-Miscegenation Statute and Got Them

(Barton has failed utterly to use the substantial powers of his office to encourage open housing or civil rights enforcement. He reduced the budget of the Human Rights Commission.)

Jim Beatty Fought for Changes in the Highway Routing

(Barton promised to change the highways when he campaigned in 1963. But the utilities and bankers told him he couldn't keep that promise. And he hasn't.)

Jim Beatty Fought for Relocation Help for Citizens Displaced by the Highways and Universities and Got It

(Barton has exhibited only weak and shifting positions in this area. Jim Beatty practices what he preaches and moved his personal residence into an integrated neighborhood several years ago.)

Jim Beatty Stands for Fair and Impartial Law Enforcement but Against Police Harrassment

(Barton has permitted harrassment to be the announced policy of the police department while serious crimes of violence have steadily mounted during his Administration.)

Jim Beatty Believes the Streets and Curbs Should be Fixed in Your Neighborhood with Permanent Improvements

(Barton has been content to emphasize repairs in the wealthier neighborhoods and conduct that sorry old temporary chuckhole repair campaign in the spring he's coming out for reelection.)

Jim Beatty Believes in Using Every Federal Dollar We can Get to Reduce Your Property Taxes

(Barton has never moved to establish an Indianapolis man in Washington to get this done. We are still paying the penalty of not getting our share of tax dollars back from the Federal government to reduce taxes at home.)

Jim Beatty Fought for Fair Employment in City and County Government both as County Chairman and Corporation Counsel

(Barton, despite repeated complaints by the Democratic Committee, insisted on retaining a Personnel Director at City Hall who is known to be hostile to Negroes and actually backed Barry Goldwater in 1964.)

More Negroes

have been nominated and elected or employed in key positions under Jim Beatty as County Chairman than under the combined chairmanships of Barton-backers Nelson Grills, Philip Bayt, and Jim Cunningham.

Daisy Lloyd, Benjamin Osborn, Henry Bundles, Robert Collins, Paul Scott, Patrick Chavis, Roselle Boyd, Charlie Walton, Henri Gibson, Taylor Baker, Melvin Baird—to name a few.

In '64 and '66, Barton

(who would now like to be considered titular head of the party) wouldn't even endorse the Democratic slate!

The fact is that Barton is an old-style bureaucrat, now surrounded by an unholy alliance of prejudiced old guardsmen who want to return to personal power and the practices of the past. He has never demonstrated a concern for minority rights or the public interest.

We are for Jim Beatty because he represents the enlightened and forceful spirit of the John F. Kennedy tradition. Jim can be expected to act for all of our citizens instead of the special interests.

We urge you to support Jim Beatty. If you want to volunteer your time to help elect Jim Beatty Mayor, call 925-0526.

Handicapped hired for work by Goodwill Ind.

Harold D. Shaw is a taxpayer... and glad of it! This rare bird among Indiana taxpayers hasn't always been one. The 27-year-old Shaw, 2835 Gladstone Avenue, has a plastic valve in his heart, but he holds down a job straightening and heat-treating piston rings among 30 other employees at Precision Piston Rings, Inc., 1417-23 Commerce Avenue, Indianapolis.

NELSON BROWN

Services for Nelson Brown, 75, 1037 W. 26 were held March 30 in Jacobs Brothers Westside Chapel. Mr. Brown died March 26 in West 10th Street Veterans Hospital.

Survivors are a foster son Clarence Ford; and foster daughter Josephine Smith.

WILLIAM H. LEE

Funeral services for William Henry Lee, 59, 1115 W. 35th, were held March 22 in 25th Street Baptist Church.

Mr. Lee was a self-employed trash hauler. He was a member of the church choir.

Survivors include the widow, Blanche, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Allen.

Shaw, the father of a five-year-old son, is able to perform the classic breadwinning role of a husband and father because of a skilled surgical team and Goodwill Industries' determination to return him to the ranks of productive Hoosiers.

Shaw is the first to give them credit for his rehabilitation but he adds his thanks to W. Orville Wilson, general manager of Precision Piston Rings, and the company where he is employed. "I really didn't know what I'd be able to do," Shaw said. "He has been a splendid employee for us," Mr. Wilson replied.

It wasn't always so rosy for the Shaw family. Shaw was stricken with rheumatic fever when he was two years old and the illness left him with a faulty heart valve. Surgery later replaced the badly-functioning valve with an artificial device but that, too, developed problems.

"I began having trouble in 1960 and the following year, I had to give up my job," Shaw recalled. More hospitalization followed and medical bills mounted.

A young man with a long history of heart disease isn't a good bet for employment and Shaw knew it. But while he was in the hospital during one of his frequent bouts, a social worker from Goodwill Industries contacted the patient. That became a turning point in Shaw's life.

After nearly four years on unemployment, with his wife supporting the little family from her earnings as a waitress, Shaw went to Goodwill for a five week evaluation study. It was there that a dedicated team of doctors, social workers, psychologists, counselors and training aides decided the young man could be reclaimed as a useful worker.

There followed a six month work therapy program, during which time he developed physical tolerance and confidence in his ability to measure up to work demands. Then came a 15 month on-the-job training program at Goodwill—earning as he learned. After that, he worked as a regular employee of Goodwill for another six months.

"Then I went with a job placement counselor to see Mr. Wilson," Shaw remembered.

"When he first came here, he looked scared to death," Wilson said. "After all, he had been out of work a long time and then he had worked only in a sheltered workshop."

Wilson found a seated job for Shaw, requiring more skill than physical exertion, and Shaw became once more just another productive private employee.

"We don't feel that we've done any favors," Wilson noted. "We think he, and the other handicapped employees we have here, are doing us a favor. They're fine workers and have a wonderful record of attendance."

Wilson credits the firm president, George J. Deeb, Jr., with starting the program of employing the handicapped.

"He felt for a long time that these people had a lot to offer and he was right," Wilson declared.

Harold Shaw hopes they always feel that way. "I'm just glad to be working again," Shaw said.

Funeral services set Saturday for Mrs. Chambers

MRS. WM. A. CHAMBERS
Mrs. Ethel L. Chambers, 57, 4046 N. Capitol, died March 29 in her home. Mrs. Chambers was a shipping clerk for Allison Division of General Motors Corporation.

She was born at Terre Haute and had lived here in the city for more than 32 years. Mrs. Chambers had been an Allison employee for 22 years. She attended St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church.

Her husband, William A. Chambers, former newspaper man for the Indianapolis Recorder and the Indianapolis Freeman is the only immediate survivor.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, April 1, in Willis Mortuary. Burial will be in Crown Hill Cemetery.

about the YMCA building.

During the YMCA membership campaign which starts this week, Mr. Zeigler hopes workers will be able to gain sufficient "partner memberships" to provide free memberships to boys unable to pay. Robert D. DeFrantz is chairman of the membership campaign.

Mr. Zeigler has called all friends of Fall Creek YMCA to help in the revitalization of the institution. "There is a big job to be done here," he asserted. "Only with the cooperation of all persons of the community can we hope for success."

In another effort to open the YMCA door a bit wider, the new executive secretary said the building will make every attempt to accommodate all groups wishing to use its facilities. Many times small groups cannot pay the established rates. "Rates will be adjusted," Zeigler stated. "Where possible, we will gauge payment on the basis of the group's ability to pay."

JOHNNETTE MOORE

Services for Jonnette Moore, 5, 2936 Washington Boulevard, were held March 27 in Patton Funeral Home. The child died in Methodist Hospital March 23 from burns suffered in a gas stove explosion at her home. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moore.

Sen. Brooke studied for Vietnam trip

BOSTON — Before embarking on his trip to Southeast Asia, Sen. Edward W. Brooke extensively studied the Vietnam war and the status of the Viet Cong.

The first Negro senator since 1881 contends that the nation's policy in Vietnam "must be based on the political, economic, and military realities in South Vietnam as well as the power and obligations of the United States." He does, however, support the United States' basic commitment in Vietnam.

The 47-year-old former Army captain undertook the journey as an outgrowth of a quest for factual information with the hope of presenting suggestions and possible solutions to the diplomatic, political and military problems in Vietnam.

The senator, who won a Bronze Star and a combat infantry badge while serving in Europe during World War II, just lately expressed both opposition to escalation of the war and a hope for a cutback in fighting while other peace avenues were explored.

Power and Light Company lights up the Circle

Mayor John J. Barton, a former employee of the Indianapolis Power & Light Co. paid tribute to the company Tuesday night at lighting ceremonies of the modernized building on the circle, in the heart of downtown Indianapolis.

The Purdue engineering graduate (Mayor Barton) worked at several jobs during the summers while attending the university in 1927-29.

The Mayor praised the building as an attractive addition to downtown Indianapolis, and turned on the building's lights. He was introduced by O. T. Fitzwater, chairman and president of the utility.

Washington cadet is named cadet colonel

A Washington High School ROTC cadet, who won the Legion of Valor Bronze Cross for Achievement last November, was recently named commanding officer of the Indianapolis High Schools ROTC Brigade and promoted to cadet colonel. C/Col. Marvin R. Colon, 18, former commander of the Washington High School Jr. ROTC battalion, beat out five other cadets in spirited competition for the top cadet position.

Among those named to the brigade staff to assist Col. Colon was C/Maj. Arthur Winters, Attucks, Brigade S4.

ril 1 in Mount Carmel Baptist Church, with Williams Funeral Home in charge.

Marine Lance Cpl. Tunstill is survived by, in addition to his parents, a brother, Richard Tunstill of Los Angeles, a sister, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Hubbard, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tunstill and Mr. and Mrs. Knox Harris, all of Indianapolis.

Services for Tunstill will be Saturday, April 1, in College Avenue Baptist Church, 15th and College Avenue, with King and King in charge.

The two young men were among 111 servicemen listed killed in action in Vietnam by the Defense Department. The two deaths brought the number of Hoosiers killed in the Vietnam War to 222. This list was the largest in a single release of casualties issued by the Pentagon.

left arm. In the stabbing Friday, police called to 2605 Guilford, said they were met at the front door by a hysterical woman covered with blood and nude from the waist up.

"She was screaming, 'Get him, come get him, hurry, hurry,'" the officers noted. The officers said they followed the woman, identified as Maxine Saulsberry, 41, of the Guilford Street address, to a first floor bedroom where they found Coot Triplett, 56, also of 2605 Guilford, lying in a pool of blood.

"When we arrived his breathing was irregular and he was dead by the time the ambulance arrived," the officers said. Triplett had lacerations above the left eye, another on the right side of his face and two stab wounds in his chest. A large butcher knife was sent to the police property room.

Mrs. Saulsberry, who was Triplett's common-in-law wife, was arrested on a preliminary charge of murder.

Talented local girl is highly acclaimed as talented soprano

Among candidates for graduation from the Interlochen Arts Academy on June 9 is a talented Indianapolis soprano who recently appeared here in a concert with the Michigan-based musical aggregation at Clowes Memorial Hall.

Miss Rosemarie Gore, daughter of Nathaniel and Elizabeth Gore, 2945 Ralston, attended Crispus Attucks High School and while a student won a scholarship to the Interlochen Arts Academy. An "Attucks family," both the singer's parents were graduated from the westside institution as were her two brothers, John F. Gore and Nathaniel Gore Jr.

With the appearance in her hometown, Miss Gore was part of a "first" by combining voices with Richard Evans, a Baltimore baritone, the Interlochen Arts Academy Orchestra's program was augmented by performances by students from another department. The tour orchestra numbers from 100 to 105 players between the ages of 13 and 18.

Other Negroes in the Interlochen tour group included Miss Wilda Willis, Aurora, Ill., bass violinist; James Tinsley, Detroit, Mich., trumpeter, and Miss Deborah Dansby, who plays the viola.

While at Attucks, Miss Gore was a member of the A Cappella Choir, String Quartette, and played the cello. She was the student director of the Attucks production of "South Pacific" in 1965 and had the lead role in "Oklahoma" in 1966 at Attucks. Her father is presently president of the Orchestra-Band Parents' Club at Attucks. He is also vice-president of the Attucks PTA.

Last year in a performance of "Amahl," Miss Gore's portrayal of Amahl's mother was described as highly professional. The "Record-Eagle," a newspaper published in Traverse City, Mich., said: "Not only does she have a beautiful, strong voice, but she also does a superb job of acting. Her movements and facial expressions never once faltered. She's one to watch for in years to come." Dr. Thor Johnson is the competent director of the Interlochen Orchestra.

An operatic singer by style, the Indianapolis songstress has a three-range voice. She sings contralto, mezzo-soprano, and soprano and has appeared in Traverse City, Mich.; Flint, Mich.; Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Chicago, Ill.

The young woman has appeared four times with the orchestra, and her performance in Indianapolis was the first one here. Miss Gore is in the 12th grade (a senior) at Interlochen Arts Academy and has studied there for a little over five months.

Before going to the Michigan institute, Miss Gore appeared as soloist twice for the Husband and Wives Choral Ensemble under the able direction of Anderson Dailey and H. Liton of Christ Church Cathedral.

Miss Gore said her family as a whole is not actively involved in the musical field, but are very interested in various forms and types of music. The soprano has been singing since she was eight-years-old, but had not considered music or opera as her profession in life. However, now she aspires to sing in concerts or in operatic form.

Her acting ability was partially developed under the training of Mrs. Arletta DuBination. She has performed in classical plays and musicals. Miss Gore still plays the cello and her private teachers were Mrs. Max Woodbury and Frank Lloyd of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra. Her piano instructors were Mrs. Trilli Stewart Smith and Mrs. Woolley of the Arts Academy. Miss Gore said she has not had any private lessons until the past year '66-'67. She is now studying under Dr. Barr Hill and Albert Jordan of the Arts Academy.

The gifted and accomplished musician encourages anyone who is interested to enter the field of music. But they must be mature enough to expect and except failures at one time or another, for the musical field is overloaded with an amount of talented people," she added.

It is evident from the way she expresses her view that Miss Gore thinks her field of endeavor is satisfying. She says: "I do find singing a rewarding subject. In this line of work one learns of various ideas in the creation of music and songs."

Continuing she asserts: "One, if he is devoted to singing, can find out new things associated with and about his personal life as well as his technique in singing."

The 17-year-old Hoosier, who has brown eyes and dark brown hair, in her spare time enjoys horseback riding, roller skating, sewing, and painting. Besides Attucks, Miss Gore attended School 26 and School 37. She is a member of Allen Chapel AME Church and holds membership in the National Honor Society.

Convention wants music dept. support

The Central District Baptist Convention music committee is soliciting the support of its music departments in planning the annual pre-convention program. Rev. J. T. Highbaugh is moderator.

All choirs and choruses are requested to start practicing certain songs. For information the groups should check with their church or call Anderson Dailey, 255-3221 or 924-1529.

In addition all persons who play band or orchestra instruments should call either 923-1298 or 924-1529, and leave their name, address, phone number and church.

Busy April schedule for groups

A busy April schedule is planned for Crispus Attucks High School musical groups, according to Norman L. Merrifield, department head.

The schedule is as follows: April 2, Girls Ensemble, Alpha Home, Anderson Dailey; April 12, Boys Ensemble, School 69 PTA, Mr. Merrifield, and Girls Glee Club, All-City Girls Glee Concert, Northwest High School, Mr. Dailey; April 16, A Cappella Choir and Boys Ensemble, Trinity CME Church, Mr. Merrifield, and April 26, Boys Glee Club, All-City Boys Glee Concert, Manual High School, Mr. Dailey.

Two events planned by Thespians of Attucks High School

Two events, a trip and a play, are on the Crispus Attucks High School Thespians' agenda.

The teenagers will travel to Ball State University April 15 to present two dramatic performances in the High School Theatre Conference. Rehearsals are in full swing for the April 20 presentation of "Midsummer Night's Dream" at 8 p.m.

Schools from throughout the state are entered in the Ball State competition. Trophies and prizes will be awarded and this is the Attucks Thespians' first try at contest work.

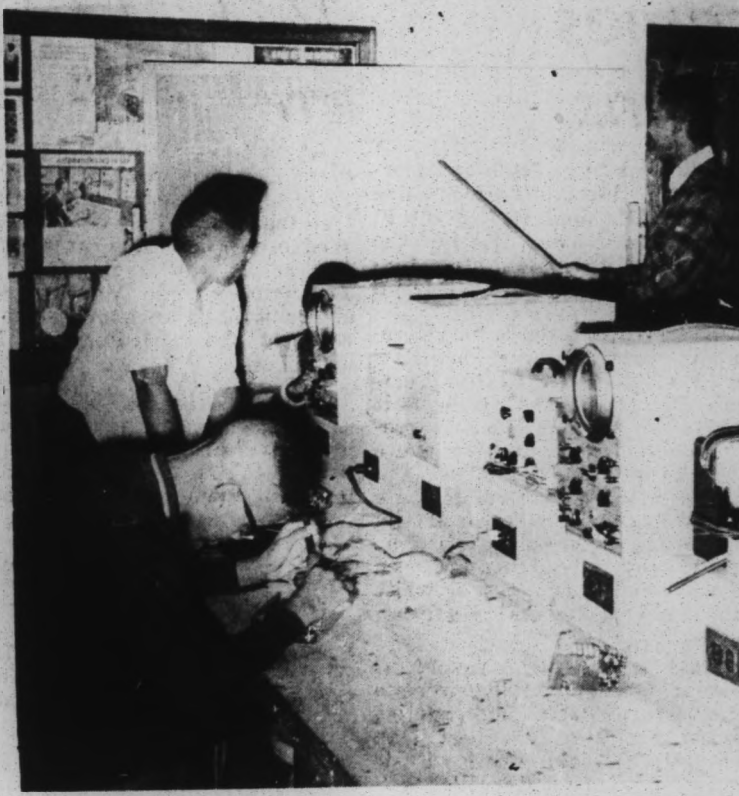

Glenn Fisher, play director, reports that the early comedy by Shakespeare has presented a challenge to his Thespian troupe, but it has also been a rewarding experience for everyone involved in its production. The Thespians are creating their own costumes and building their own sets. Tickets for the performance will go on sale April 3 and will be priced 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

Temperance Union holds meeting

The Woman's Christian Highland Temperance Union held their March meeting with the vice president, Mrs. Gertrude Jordan in her new home, 1049 W. 36th. Mrs. Jordan served the union a lovely chicken dinner which was enjoyed by all.

The president called the meeting to order and the salute to the Temperance Flags was given by Mrs. Willie C. Tillis. A committee was set up for the Highland Institute, Wednesday, April 12 at the Woman's Federation Club Home, 2309 N. Capitol. Everyone is welcome.

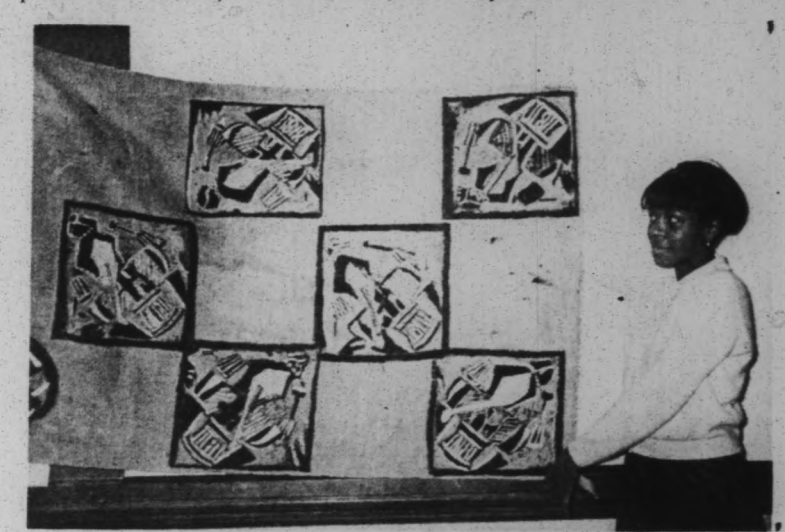

Those present at the meeting were, Mrs. Amelia Woolfolk, Mrs. Phronia Stewart, Mrs. Lora Edwards, Mrs. Mable Alexander, Mrs. Tinchia Lasley, Mrs. Mary Wharton, and Joseph Tarrant.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hannah host to Bandives Club

Mr. and Mrs. John Hannah of 2301 W. 59th. were host to the Bandives Club, Saturday, March 25. The new officers are: Emory T. Anderson; Elizabeth C. mogene Anderson, president; Marjorie Parker, secretary; Al Ernestine Grundy; Russell Parlen Grundy, treasurer; and Cecil Ross is officer pro-temp. Appointments were assigned to Dwight L. Carter, chaplain; John M. Hannah, cheer fund chairman; Alene Harrison, telephone chairman; Otis Jones, the reporter.

CREATES DESIGN: Miss Janet Tate, a student in the art department of Crispus Attucks High School, displays a design she is printing from an original block print. Miss Doris Duncan is the teacher.

CARDETTES CLUB

Mrs. Ella Belle Clark, 2210 W. 66th, was hostess Friday, March 24, to the Cardettes Club. A beautiful, as well as delicious luncheon was enjoyed by the members. At cards, the first prize was won by Mrs. Olga Jenkins and the second prize was won by Mrs. Leila Lesser. Mrs. Olga Jenkins is the secretary.

Propose using playground for play area

The Butler-Tarkington Neighborhood Association was told March 15 that school playgrounds can afford more park facilities at less expense.

In making his proposition, Lee Burton, Metropolitan Park Department director, the Indianapolis School Board will permit the use of city school land for recreation areas if the Park Department could supervise them.

Mr. Burton said the cooperation between schools and the city could help resolve the problem of buying land that now in some cases in the inner city costs up to $80,000 an acre.

By cutting down such expenses as paper pickup and vandalism, this would compensate for the cost of using the school playground and building facilities.

Included in the $80,000 per acre for a new park are the land and home purchases, relocation of families and clearing of space, according to Mr. Burton and William Anderson, press secretary to Mayor John J. Barton. The high cost for developing new parks was cited as a reason for not undertaking such projects.

WONDER BREAD

In the new Sta-Fresh wrapper stays fresher to taste fresher!

You simply can't serve a fresher tasting bread than Wonder Enriched Bread, now packed in Wonder's Sta-Fresh plastic bag! This special bag helps hold moisture in, and is actually airtight, too. Wonder's wrapper has a plastic fastener that you simply twist to open, twist to close. No inner band makes it easy to take slices out, put them in again.

When you see Wonder in this new wrapper you'll notice the Good Housekeeping Seal. Yes, Wonder has earned this famous seal...your added assurance that Wonder Enriched Bread is baked with the finest ingredients for a most flavorful and nutritious loaf. The Seal is another good reason why mothers will want Wonder Bread day after day for sandwiches, toast, and with meals.

Remember, during the "Wonder Years"—the formative years from one through twelve—your children develop in many ways. They actually grow to 90% of their adult height! To help make the most of their "Wonder Years" be sure to serve nutritious Wonder Enriched Bread...now in the Sta-Fresh plastic wrapper.

Church Events

By WILLA THOMAS

It was a beautiful week-end for the Holy week-end celebration and it was good to see so many heading for the church. The only thing about so many being there is the fact that you won't see these people any more until Mother's Day. I am sure that our Father would appreciate your attendance at each of His worship services.

The ladies of Olivet Baptist Church will take over next Sunday, to show the menfolk of the church how they would run it if they had the opportunity to do so. Mrs. Mattie Hunt will travel from the Galilee Baptist Church to speak for the 11:30 a.m. worship and in the afternoon Mrs. Anna Sarver will speak for the 3:30 p.m. worship. The theme for the day will be "A God-fearing Woman."

I am sorry that I failed to get a program and we did not have a complete story on this week's convention. If all of the leaders who are sponsors of the groups meeting this week at the New Bethel Baptist Church would submit to me your list of officers over the week-end before Monday, we shall be very happy to mention with a story. It is very necessary that a story be put in the paper with the young peoples name to encourage them. Hearts were saddened this week-end at the passing of the Rev. F. Jefferson, the beloved minister of the Pilgrim Baptist Church. A fine Christian person to know who took the work of the church, to do the best that he knew how. To his faithful wife, his family, Dr. A. J. Brown, his grandson and the members of the Pilgrim Baptist Church, we here extend sympathy to each one of you.

All missionaries are urged to come and bring many to hear the well known members of the National Council of Churches, Mrs. Ann Arnold Hedgeman of New York City.

Dr. L. A. Manuel, minister of the South Calvary Church will bring the Annual message for the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, B.T.U. Sunday, April 2, at 3:30 p.m. and his choir will sing. Dr. Manuel closed a very successful revival at the Second Baptist Church in Marion, Friday.

Please remember our boys in service, write to them often. If you do not have anyone to write, get the name of a neighbor's or call me for names and addresses.

Leaders of children, your time and talent are needed to help with the work of children this summer. You can be trained. Call Mrs. Raymond A. Guss, 881-5097 for more information.

Rev. L. E. Shields installed as Minister of Witherspoon

Witherspoon United Presbyterian Church, now has a new minister. He is the Rev. Landrum E. Shields. Rev. Mr. Shields was installed Sunday, March 26, at 7:30 p.m. at the church by a commission of the Presbytery of Indianapolis of the United Presbyterian church in the U.S.A.

The call to worship was given by Elder Ernest E. Ittner. The invocation and Lord's prayer was led by The Rev. William Schuster. A reading from the New Testament was by Elder R. Smith. The Rev. John Fox gave the Pastoral prayer. The sermon was given by The Rev. William H. Hudnut III who spoke on the subject "Christ Centered."

The minister and his family were honored at a reception in fellowship hall following the worship.

Rev. Shields is no stranger to this church for he served as director of Christian Education under the leadership of Dr. Clinton Marsh.

Rev. Shields is an ordained Presbyterian Minister and a member of the Indianapolis Presbytery and a native of New York City, where he completed his former education. He was formerly Assistant Minister and Director of Religious Education at Witherspoon United Presbyterian Church. Adult Program Secretary at the former Senate Avenue YMCA; Minister of First Congregational Church in Greensboro, N. C.; Chaplain in the 1961 British Isle Exchange Program visiting England, Ireland, Scotland, and Wales, commissioned by the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

Rev. Shields received the A.B. Degree from Lincoln (Pennsylvania) University, attended

Graduate School of Theology at Oberlin College, received the B.D. Degree from Howard University, the M.R.E. Degree from the Christian Theological Seminary, Butler University. He has completed his course and resident requirements for the Ph.D. Degree at Indiana University.

Until recently, Rev. Shields served as a member of the faculty of the Indiana Central College and an associated faculty member of the Indiana University. Kokomo Campus.

Also was director of a National Institute of Mental Health at Central State Hospital. Rev. Shields will be assisted in his work by his lovely wife, Mrs. Margie Shields. She has taught at School 26 and at one time served as a member of the Department of Children's work-Church Federation as a teacher. Rev. and Mrs. Shields are parents of four lovely children, Landrum Jr., Shryn, Laurita and Andrea.

Terre Haute educator is named C. S. C. dean

WILBERFORCE, Ohio — An outstanding educator and native of Terre Haute, Ind., Dr. Wesley J. Lyda, has been named Dean of the School of Graduate Studies at Central State University.

Dr. Harry E. Groves, president, announced the appointment of the nationally acclaimed scholar who for many years was principal of a Terre Haute school. Dr. Lyda is the son of John W. Lyda of Terre Haute.

He was graduated with distinction from DePauw University and from Indiana State University where he was elected to Kappa Delta Pi, and Indiana University where he was a graduate assistant, graduate research assistant and elected to Phi Delta Kappa.

Dr. Lyda was formerly dean of the graduate school of education of Atlanta University and director of the summer school of the Atlanta University complex which includes Morehouse, Spelman, Clark and Morris Brown College, Interdenominational Theological Seminary and Atlanta University.

He was also graduate dean at Fort Valley State College, University System of Georgia, and vice-chairman of the Academic Committee on Graduate Work and Research, University System of Georgia.

Dr. Lyda served as a national consultant to the Phelps-Stokes Foundation Project on the Improvement of Secondary Education; his name has appeared in "Who's Who in America" every year since 1950, and his name first appeared in "Leaders in Education" over 20 years ago.

He replaces Dr. Prince Wilson, who left Central State last summer to be the coordinator of the Atlanta University complex.

Characters in play receive recognition

Following the presentation of the junior class play at class play at Crispus Attucks High School judges selected the best actor and actress.

Chosen for the honor were Zella Flye for her role as "Magda Svenson" and Delbert White as "District Attorney Flint." Best supporting actress was Phyllis Page for her role as "Mrs. John Hutchins." Best supporting actor was Dennis Arnold as "Elmer Sweeney."

Mrs. Stephen Scott and Mrs. Sandra Carpenter, two patrons, were judges.

The subject of the play was a murder trial, and the unusual feature was the recruiting of 12 members of the audience to serve as jury.

Rev. F. Jefferson, pastor of Pilgrim Baptist, succumbs

Over 700 members, friends and relatives of the late Rev. F. Jefferson, attended the final services for the minister held Wednesday, March 29, at 11:00 a.m. at the Pilgrim Baptist Church where he served as a faithful leader for 37 years.

The Rev. Forest Jefferson, passed Saturday, March 26, at his residence, 2184 N. Capitol, where he lived with his beloved wife Mrs. Birtier Jefferson. He had been ill only a short time.

The minister was born at Raymond, Miss., to Jessie and Lucinda Jefferson, April 23, 1890. Rev. Jefferson was loved and respected by the masses of people who knew him. The minister known as a revival minister, did preach the word of God all over the U. S., in various revival meetings.

The first church here in this city pastored by the minister was the Greater Gethsemane Baptist Church later to be recognized as the Sunrise Baptist Church which later merged with the 17th Street Baptist Church four years later (1937).

He organized the Pilgrim Baptist Church and built a new brick church at 19th and Boulevard later with the members of the church purchased the Pilgrim Baptist Church presently located at 30th and Clifton.

Under the capable leadership of Rev. Jefferson, more than 760 members were added to the church. He organized Ebenezer Baptist Church, now pastored by his step-son Rev. J. E. King. He along with his wife felt that the Baptist should have a camp site and started raising funds to purchase a Monterey Camp Site. He was chairman of this project for the Union District. As a result of his efforts the Baptist have a beautiful camp site.

For 23 years he served as vice-moderator of the Union District Baptist Association and was active in the General Baptist State Convention and the National Baptist Convention, Inc., and was a life member of the Fall Creek Y.M.C.A. He was in the ministry 40 years.

The opportunity was not his to finish school but he did lead a successful religious life as a leader in God's church. The Pilgrim Baptist Church started by him with 37 members grew to more than 600.

He was a faithful down to earth leader, easy to talk to and generous. He shared his time and talent by going and helping others by bringing comfort to the sick and shut-ins and those in sorrow.

His grandson, The Rev. Andrew Brown, minister of the Greater St. John Baptist Church gave the message. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Jefferson, three daughters, Mrs. Esther Williams, Mrs. Hattie Jackson, and Mrs. Mattie Pollard, all of Indianapolis, one step-son, Rev. J. E. King, Indianapolis, a foster daughter, Mrs. Carolyn Browder, granddaughter, Mrs. Jimmie L. Langford, Mrs. Orpha Jackson, four great grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

EUGENE MANSON

Last rites for Eugene Manson, 30, 3529 Kinnear, were held March 22 in College Avenue Baptist Church. He was killed March 18 as he was struck by a car on U. S. 31 about one mile north of Seymour.

Mr. Manson lived in Indianapolis eight years and was employed at Bridgeport Brass Co. During the Korean War, he served in the Marine Corps.

Surviving are the widow, Dorothy; a stepdaughter, Roxanne Ghammes, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Manson.

WILLIAM DAVIS

Services for William McKinley Davis, 19, were held March 25 in Stuart Mortuary. A life resident of Indianapolis, Mr. Davis was a member of Greater Zion Baptist Church and a Junior Deacon of the Church. Burial was in Crown Hill.

Survivors include the wife, Mrs. Betty Davis; a son, William; a daughter, Carolyn Marie; stepfather, Henry Pettie; sisters, Mrs. Bernice Hollums, Miss Eva Mae Alston and Katherine Alston; brothers, Daniel, Harry L., Tyrone Davis; Leo Walker and Richard Alston all of Indianapolis, and Eugene Alston, of Jeffersonville, Ind.

Science Shrinks Piles Easy Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

...Except In Unusually Severe Or Persistent Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a unique substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain without surgery except in unusually severe or persistent cases. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is this substance (Bio-Dyne®)—now obtainable only in Preparation H®. Preparation H also helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

"Seest thou a man diligent in his business?" — (Proverbs 12:29)

It is a proven fact that the Rev. E. James Odom is faithful to the Master's Commission. Recognizing achievements made thus far through the persevering leadership of Pastor Odom, and realizing that it is impossible to fully express our gratitude to him and his wife for their sacrificial services during the past 10 years, the officers and members of the 25th Street Baptist Church 525 West 25th Street, will pause to say "Thank You" to them on Sunday, April 2, at 3:00 p.m. and Monday, April 3, at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Andrew Williams and the Eastside Baptist Church has been invited to worship with the church on Sunday and Dr. H. L. Burton of Phillips Temple CME Church to worship on Monday. The public also welcome to worship in these services.

Clay's sparring mate wants bout with champ

NEW YORK — "Sure I'd like to meet Cassius Clay for the world heavyweight championship," said a happy Jimmy Ellis last Wednesday night after he had kayaked highly-ranked Johnny Persol in 2:44 of the first round at Madison Square Garden.

"I think I could give him a good fight, and — if I had a little luck — maybe beat him. Everybody wants to meet the heavyweight champion. He gets mad sometimes when I hit him pretty hard as we're sparring, and then, sometimes, he hits me pretty hard. We have a lot of the same punches."

Ellis split with Clay in two bouts as an amateur in Louisville, the hometown of both fighters. He now serves as the champ's principal sparring partner.

"Clay does a lot of bouncing in the ring," said Ellis. "I do a lot of bouncing, too, but my bouncing is for a purpose. I want to get more authority in my punches."

Ellis cut loose with a barrage of left hooks that did the most damage to Persol. A Garden favorite from Brooklyn. Then "I finished him off with a couple of rights."

The 190½-pound Ellis, ranked fifth among the light-heavyweights, dropped his 27-year-old adversary twice in the scheduled 10-rounder to gain the technical knockout.

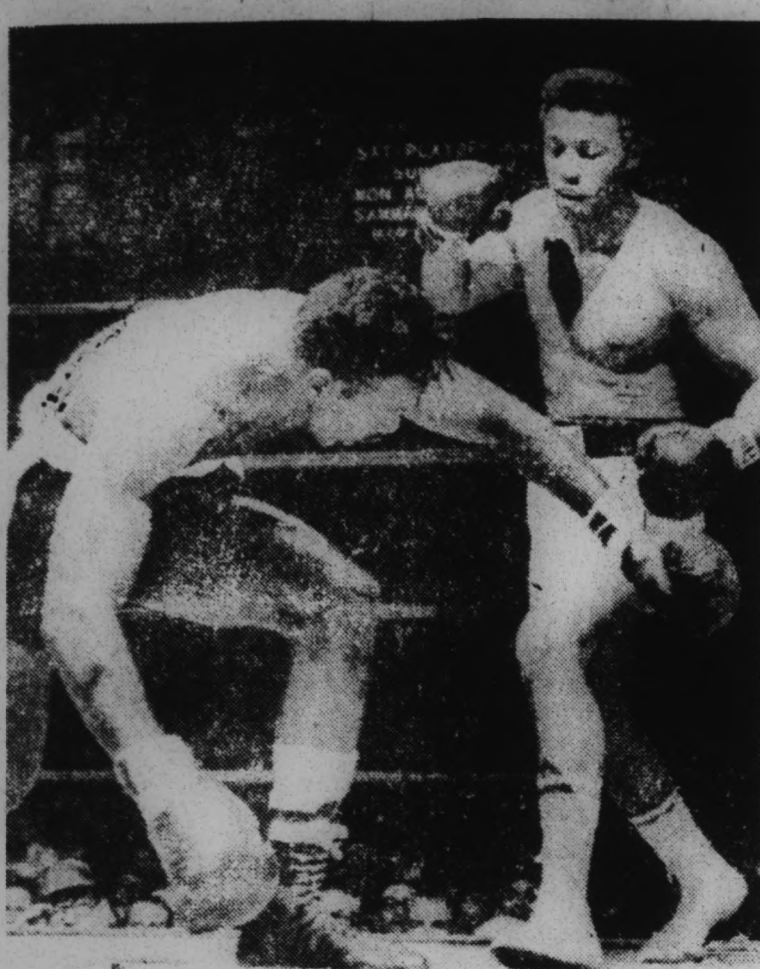

The fight had just hit the two-minute when Ellis caught the 179-pound Persol with a jarring left hook to the jaw. Persol shook his head and reeled back to the ropes.

Ellis charged after his stricken foe and nailed him with another jolting left hook, followed by a right that dropped Persol to the canvas. He staggered up at eight.

The Louisville charged in again and nailed Persol with two more jolting left hooks and a chopping right that dropped Persol to his knees.

Referee Barney Smith counted to six then waved his hands, signifying it was all over. Persol was on the canvas for another five or six seconds before he realized the fight had ended.

It was the eighth straight victory as a heavyweight for Ellis, whose pro record now is

VICTORY FOR ELLIS: New Yorker Johnny Persol falls to the canvas for the first of two times in losing a first-round technical knockout to Louisville's James Ellis in the semifinal bout on last Wednesday night's professional boxing card at Madison Square Garden. When action resumed, Ellis went for the "kill."

23-5, including 11 knockouts. Persol had his winning streak snapped at five. His record is 17-4-1. He has been stopped three times.

Ellis said Persol made him mad at the beginning of the fight when the New Yorker hit him with a left hook.

"I said to myself, 'I'm a better boxer than to get hit with a thing like that,' and I told Persol he shook me up with that one. 'I'm gonna get you,' I told him."

Ellis said he knew that he would have to score a decisive win because of Persol's local connections.

"If it had been close, I would have lost the fight," he said. After the quick victory, Ellis said he had no immediate plans except to go back home for awhile.

"I think the camp will give me a chance if this puts me in the ratings," he said. "He's that kind of a guy. I don't know if I'll continue sparring with him. I'll probably be fighting other contenders now."

Angelo Dundee, who manages and trains Clay, also owns Ellis' contract. It has a year to run. Dundee would have to dispose of it, naturally, before Ellis could meet Clay.

William G. Reynolds and Chris Duvall of Louisville have been negotiating for Ellis' contract, but Dundee would not say whether he will sell it.

At any rate, the price has gone up. And it took only two minutes and 44 seconds to do it.

Juan Marichal joins $100,000-a-year club

PHOENIX, Ariz.—San Francisco's ace right-hander, Juan Marichal, ended major league's final holdout Monday when he signed a $100,000, one year contract.

The "Dominican dandy" thus joins Willie Mays of the Giants, Frank Robinson of the Orioles, and Hank Aaron of the Braves as the tan stars to receive $100,000 or more this upcoming season.

Marichal, who has been working out in his native Dominican Republic, has won 21 or more games in the past four seasons, and last year the ace hurler didn't report until March 22 but went on to win 10 straight games.

Marichal reportedly had agreed on a figure of $110,000 last week, but that figure was turned down by the club.

But after a 10-minute conference with club president Horace Stoneham Monday, it was announced that a contract had been signed.

Marichal originally asked $125,000, the salary reportedly paid the new-retired Sandy Kousser Marichal sports — fax. With the $100,000 pact he gets a $25,000 raise from last season, with a total of $60,000 more than three years ago.

His salary is second highest for a Giant only to Mays who gets $125,000.

Marichal posted a 25-8 record in 1963; 21-8 in '64; 22-13 in '65 and 25-6 last season. His pay scale went $40,000, $50,000, $60,000 and $75,000.

The Giants had originally offered $90,000, but that figure was turned down by the Giant hurler.

Alcindor's performance no disappointment to Unseld

LOUISVILLE — There were some people in Freedom Hall this past weekend who said they were disappointed with Lew Alcindor.

One of them was not Westley Unseld. "I thought he was real tough," said Louisville's All-American junior center. He looked real good to me. He was not a disappointment in any way."

While the 7-foot Alcindor and his UCLA teammates were playing in the NCAA final here, Unseld and his All-American roommates, sophomore Butch Beard, watched the games at Freedom Hall.

Ranked No. 2 in the nation, the University of Louisville was favored to win the NCAA Midwest Regional and get a shot at UCLA here in the semifinals. But Southern Methodist upset them and then Houston whipped SMU to earn the Midwest ticket here.

Still, since Unseld and Beard both are underclassmen, there is always next season for Louisville. So in case they ever get to play UCLA, did Unseld see anything that would help him stop Alcindor?

"I really couldn't tell," he said. "It would take a lot of thinking to figure out something like that."

Alcindor wasn't all that impressed Unseld.

He mentioned UCLA's four "other guys" — Mike Warren, Lynn Shackelford, Kenny Heitz and Lucius Allen, all underclassmen.

"They're as well-balanced as any ball club I've seen," Unseld said. "They've got the personnel to do anything. They're not a one-man show. They're a good team."

Then there was Houston's Elvin (The Big E) Hayes, who joined Unseld and Alcindor on most of the All-American teams this season. A 6-8 junior, The Big E also will be back next season.

"He's a real fine ball player," Unseld said. "He gave Alcindor a good battle."

After the UCLA-Houston game Friday Hayes said Alcindor was over-rated. He said the superior sophomore was not as tough under the boards as he had expected.

However, Lew was tough enough to pull down 20 rebounds and score 19 points in UCLA's 73-58 victory over the Cougars. Hayes led all scorers with 25 in that game.

"I guess he would know more

The registration period will last through April 15 and will be held daily except Sunday from 5 to 7 p.m., and from 12 to 4 p.m., on Saturdays.

McDonald makes top grade with most Redskin scouts

WASHINGTON — Not unexpectedly, Tim Temerario cautioned Redskins' buffs that no guarantees went with his recommendations in the recent draft of college players.

"I will say this — we certainly knew the man we were picking," the director of player personnel said. "We knew his weaknesses as well as his strengths. There was no guessing until maybe the 16th or 17th rounds."

The Redskins had 25 pages of reports on fullback Ray McDonald of Idaho, their No. 1 selection.

One of the most respected men in the CEPO scouting group to which the Redskins subscribe called McDonald "a pro coach's dream, a combination of Ollie Matson and Jim Brown . . . tough . . . hungry . . . big . . . powerful with speed."

"He is the best college football player in the country. He puts out 100 percent and has a great attitude. I can't say enough good things about him."

Another scout saw McDonald, 6-foot-4 and 240 pounds, in another game last fall and reported: "He just didn't look tough, but ran well in the open field."

Under the Redskins' grading system, a "No. 1 plus" rating means the player "will become a regular his first season." No. 2 means he "will make the squad." No. 4 is a border line case and No. 5 is reserved for a predicted flop.

Of 25 reports of McDonald, 15 gave him a No. 1 grade, eight were No. 2 and two were No. 3.

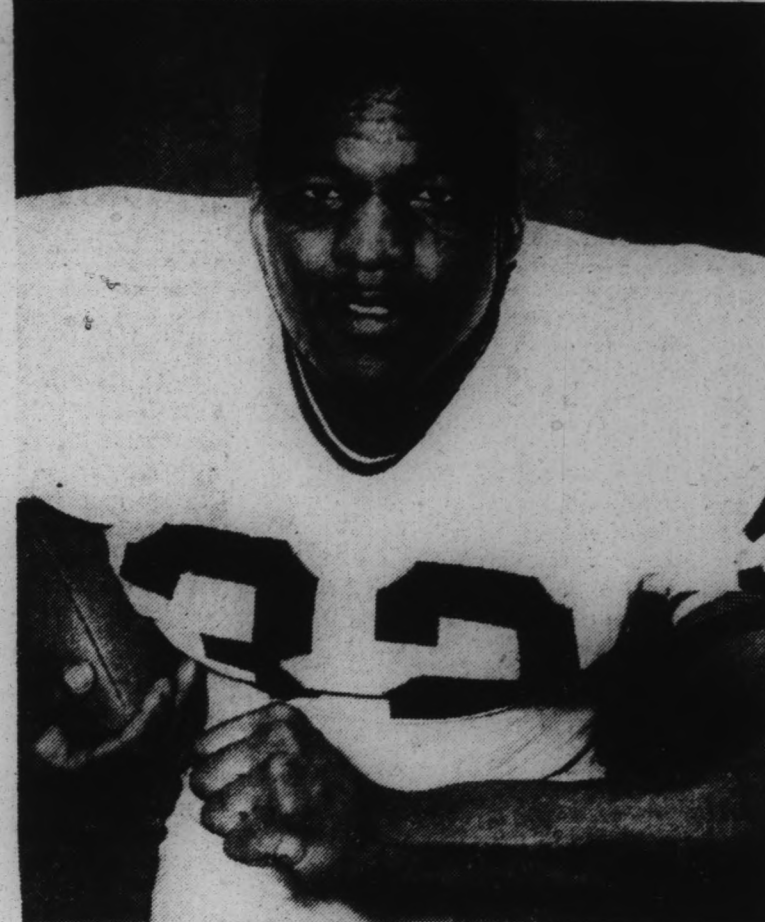

The fellow who was slightly disenchanted with McDonald the first time reported the next time that "although he was held to 30 yards in nine carries the San Jose State coaches were unanimous in their opinion that he was the top back they faced."

"They quoted their players as saying, 'He hurts when he hits you.'"

Other remarks by other scouts: "He does a great job of stiff-arming tacklers in the open field . . . he provides good pass protection and has good pop (impact) with his blocks . . . exceptional speed for his size and would be better if he ran lower . . . a fine receiver but needs work on blocking."

"Leg that was hurt (severed Achilles' tendon when McDonald was sophomore) still small but he is the best back I've seen this year (1966)."

"Picks holes well . . . feels

his way inside . . . will play the Redskins picked 13th in the first round of the draft. "Probably because of uncertainty over his leg and because the league (Big Sky Conference) he played in is not strong as the Big Ten, thought McDonald lasted until for instance," Temerario stated.

Shortridge, Wood and Tech place two each on All-Star list

Shortridge, Tech and Wood each placed two nominees on the list of the top 100 senior high school basketball players in Indiana — the list from which the Indiana All-Stars will be named. A total of seven city stars made the select group.

The Blue Devils, who compiled its best season since 1933 winning their sectional and regional before being stopped in the semi-state by New Castle, placed forward George Pillow, and guard Ed Finch.

Tech, runnerup to Shortridge in the regional, placed guard Gerald Sears and center-forward Ross Furry. Wood placed All-American, 6-1 Gregg Northington, and forward Ken Morgan.

The other nominee was Crispus Attucks' outstanding center Joe Leavell. Also, Jim Price of Tech was named one of the state's top juniors.

Indians seeking usherettes for coming season

Applications for positions on the Indianapolis Indians Usherette staff are now being accepted by the Tribe front office.

The 1967 season marks the fourth year that usherettes have been used at Victory Field.

Applicants should be between 18 and 24 years of age. Since the Indians home games are night games starting at 7:45 p.m., or in the case of double-headers at 6:30 p.m., usherette working hours, except for Sunday afternoons, are early evening hours.

Written applications should be addressed to the Indianapolis Indians Baseball Club, Victory Field, 1501 W. 16th., or interviews may be arranged by calling the Victory Field offices at 632-5371.

Matthew Alexander Henson (1866-1955)

The first man to set foot on the top of the world.

The signs of a true adventurer showed up early in the life of Matthew Henson. At the ripe old age of thirteen, Henson shipped out as cabin boy on a schooner bound for China.

When he returned to Washington, D. C., he met the man who helped make him famous. The then Lt. Robert E. Peary discovered Matt Henson working in a Washington hat shop. Peary was immediately impressed by Henson, and he invited the young man to join a canal-surveying expedition to Nicaragua. Henson accepted.

Under Peary's tutelage, Matt Henson became an able navigator, adept at calculating distances and plotting charts. A short time later, Peary began his renowned arctic expeditions to locate the North Pole, and Henson accompanied the admiral on all seven trips.

On the final trip, Peary lay drained from exhaustion and crippled by frostbite. Someone had to make the last dash to the Pole, and fast, since a number of nations were vying for the claim.

Matt Henson was the man. Trudging the last painful miles, recording observations and calculating a true course, Matthew Alexander Henson became the first man to locate and stand on the North Pole. Peary arrived forty-five minutes later, and together, the men planted the American flag.

No longer was Matt Henson an obscure adventurer. He was given a Congressional Medal, life membership in the Explorers' Club, a commendation from the President, a Master of Science degree by Morgan State College, and numerous medals and plaques from civic organizations.

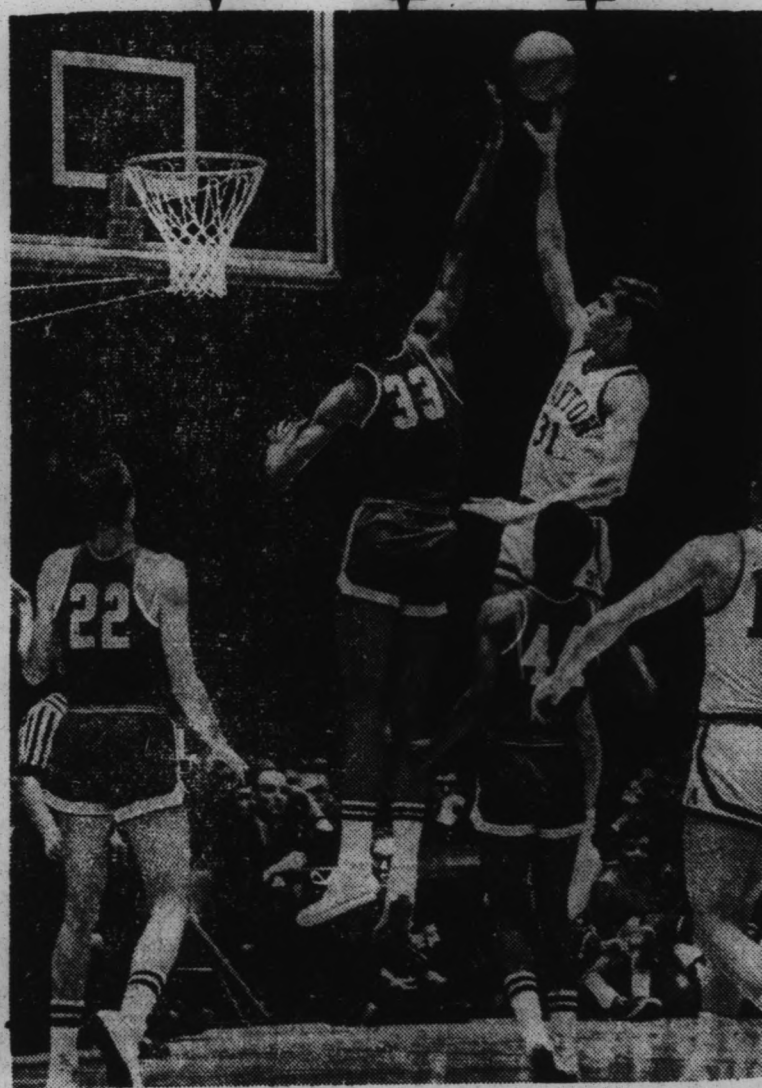

April 6, 1959, the 50th anniversary of the discovery of the North Pole, was proclaimed by the governor of Maryland as Matthew Alexander Henson Day. Fitting tribute to the first man ever to stand on the top of the world.

★ ★ ★ NAACP

Roy Wilkins, Executive Director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Saturday told a seven-state leadership training conference here the civil rights movement is not dead "a long as you and I have breath."

Mr. Wilkins, in Louisville to address the NAACP's Region III conference which attracted some 1,000 delegates from Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin and West Virginia, said:

"The mere fact the Governor of South Carolina can say in his inaugural address that the state shall have no bigotry indicates the life of the movement."

In a television interview held prior to his keynote address, Mr. Wilkins warned that Negroes would remember the "personal" attack by Congress on Harlem Representative Adam Clayton Powell.

"I think that the Congress treated Powell shamefully," Mr. Wilkins said, "They voted in bank to throw Powell out and I think the voters will remember that."

Mr. Wilkins, leader of the nation's oldest and largest civil rights organization, told the banquet audience "Things are changing in the South. All of Mississippi is not like Natchez."

He said he was pleased with the response and attitudes of Natchez city officials shown at a funeral held for slain civil rights worker Wharlest Jackson, who was killed last month by a bomb planted underneath his pickup truck.

Mr. Wilkins said the civil rights movement must now direct itself to the implementation of laws and powers presently available to Negroes.

Consultants attending the three-day conference here at the Sheraton Hotel agreed that the lesson of the 1966 elections was that it is not enough for Negroes to have the vote.

"We've learned the hard way that the right to vote is not necessarily to get the best effect out of that vote," said Clarence Townes, Jr., special assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Committee.

"What we have been experiencing in this country and particularly in certain sections of the nation for some time, is one-party control," Mr. Townes said. "This is where one political party holds a monopoly on political power and loyal opposition and constructive criticism are stifled."

The vote alone without other sources of power such as education, jobs and open housing is not a significant resource for full citizenship, he said.

Wiley A. Branton, special assistant to the U. S. Attorney General, said that the large numbers of Negro voters are causing white politicians to change their old attitudes of racial prejudice.

"Real progress is being made in terms of Negro voters," Mr. Branton said, with about 2.7 million of the 5 million Negroes of voting age now registered in the South, compared to only 1.5 million registered in 1962.

William E. Pollard of the AFL-CIO department of Civil Rights, charged that "California at the present time is the sickest state in the entire United States on race relations."

He said the 1966 election in California was a culmination of anti-civil rights action by the John Birch Society and other groups.

William Oliver, of the United Auto Workers fair practices and anti-discrimination division, said the meaning of the 1966 elections will not be apparent until the new Congress has a chance to act on Great Society programs and on a 1967 civil rights bill.

Delegates to the conference also joined Louisvillians in a peaceful march on City Hall in support of open housing legislation.

★ ★ ★ King plans '67 demonstrations

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who led a violence-racked open housing drive last year in Chicago, plans more demonstrations there in a major 1967 push for economic improvement of Negroes in the slums.

"The basic problem now is that of economic deprivation of the Negro—of the ghettos of our nation," King said in an interview as he disclosed plans for a two-pronged effort of slum organizing and job improvement for Negroes with national firms.

King said also he will assume an active role in opposition to the Vietnam war. He describes the war as the major obstacle to the civil rights movement.

He said the 1967 plans of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which he heads, calls for:

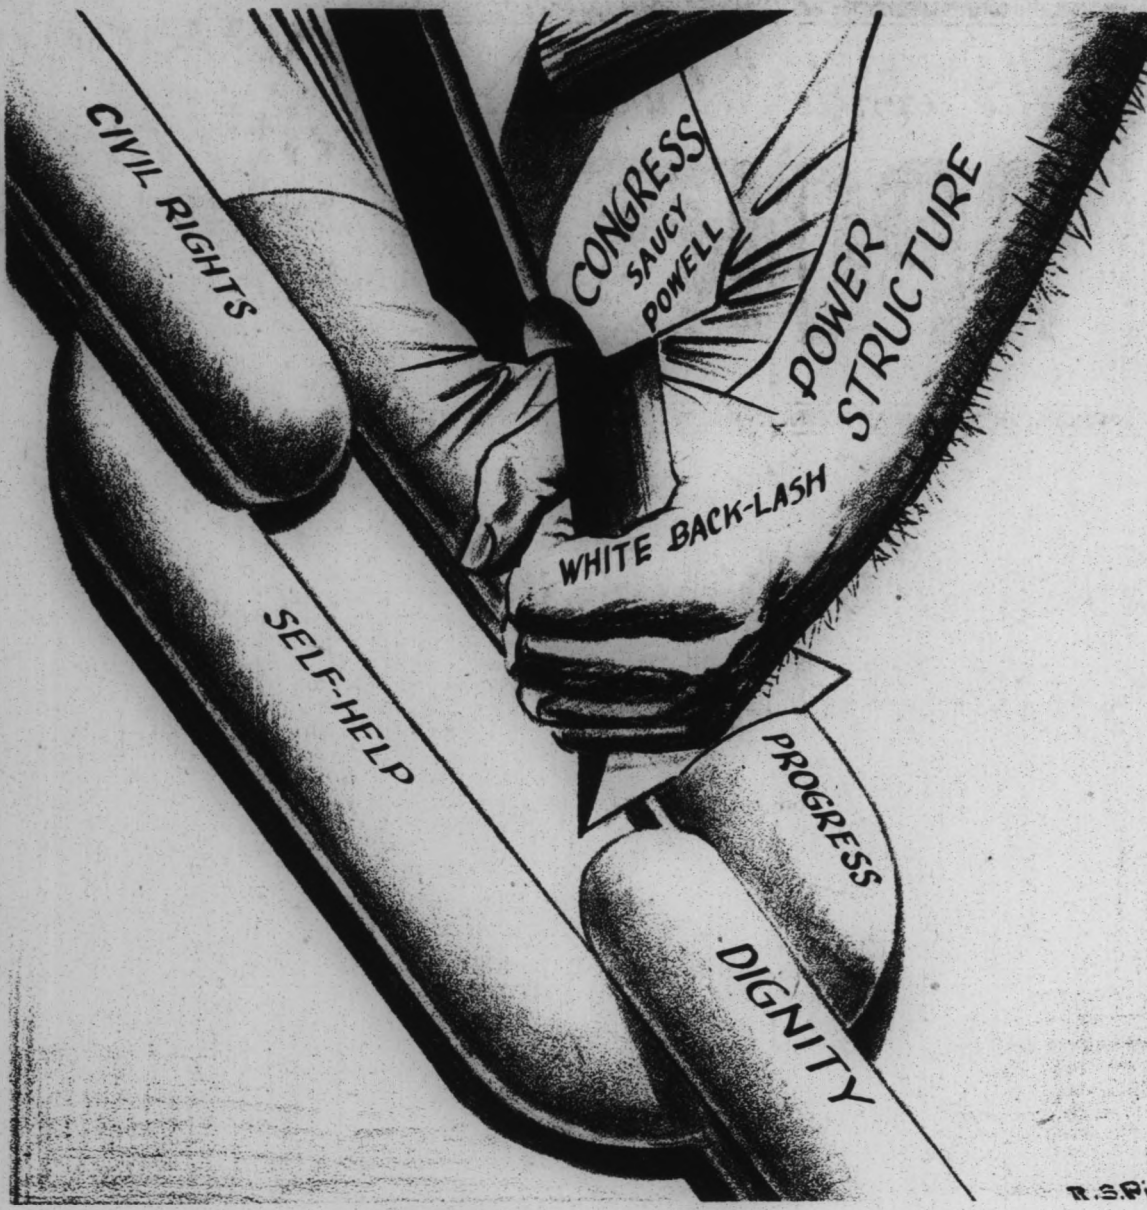

An intensive campaign of organizing Negroes in the slums "to build a base power in order to bring enough pressure to bear to bring about a guaranteed annual income."

Bargaining with major businesses for hiring and promotion of Negroes—a program patterned after successful efforts in Atlanta and Chicago.

Chicago again will be a primary target for slum organizing and attacks on segregated housing and schools, King said. Last year, rioting erupted in Negro areas and resulted in National Guard troops moving in. Negro marchers protesting housing segregation ran into attacks from angry whites.

"We feel the necessity of dramatic demonstrations to expose the evils around the housing and school situation," King said. This might involve Negro pupils marching around white schools, he said. Strategy will be worked out in a Chicago meeting in early May.

The Negro and the armed forces

by WHITNEY M. YOUNG, JR.

ED. PAGE.—Thumb Cut.

The selective service system is about to be revised. A Presidential Commission recommended broad changes in the way young men are drafted into the armed forces and the President has indicated that he will follow their suggestions.

Under the proposed draft system, the youngest age group—19-year-olds—will be selected first. They will be chosen by means of a random selection, some times called a lottery. When the number of men needed is filled, those not selected will be dropped to the bottom of the list to make room for the new crop of 19-year-olds. Deferments too, will be sharply curtailed.

The system of random selection is especially important because it will reduce into the draft what it has most often lacked—fairness. The present draft often works in discriminatory fashion. President Johnson said as much in a recent press conference: "I think unquestionably in the field of the Selective Service Boards and the draft machinery, as in the general machinery of government at all levels, that there has been discrimination against minority groups."

At present, almost one out of every three Negroes who meets the Army's standards is drafted, but less than one out of five qualified white youths is drafted. Every year almost 2 million men reach draft age, but the Army drafts only a fraction of that number. To allow the burden to fall disproportionately upon minority groups is immoral, unfair and dangerous.

This is especially true at a time when the nation is at war. When induction into the armed forces may mean death or maiming in a far-off land, it is intolerable for minority groups who share least in the benefits of our society to share most in the burden of defending it.

As anyone who watches televised newscasts or sees photos in the newspapers knows, Negroes are doing much of the fighting in Vietnam. Although only 11 percent of the population is Negro, 14.5 percent of the U.S. Army in Vietnam are Negro. In some of the line companies the proportion is far higher as reflected in the fact that Negroes comprise 22.4 percent of combat deaths.

The role of our Negro fighting men is perhaps best typified by Specialist 6 Lawrence Joel, who recently received the nation's highest military honor, the Medal of Honor, at a White House ceremony. Specialist Joel received the award for extraordinary heroism during an attack on his company's position by superior forces. Almost everyone in the lead squad was killed or wounded in the attack, and Specialist Joel, a medic, treated the wounded men while still under fire. After being wounded twice, he still dragged himself across the bloody battlefield to treat more men. Even after his supplies ran out, he continued to help his comrades, saving one man's life by placing a plastic bag over a chest wound to congeal the blood.

The nation is in the debt of men like Specialist Joel who undergo such hardship and danger. It must soon face the question: "Can we ask so much from these men without doing something about the discrimination which limits their opportunities in civilian life?" Is our nation so morally backward as to ask for such sacrifices from people not allowed to participate fully in all aspects of life? Can white Americans ask a man to save their son's life on the battlefield and then refuse to let him live on their street?

President Johnson summed up the problem when he said: "The pack of the Negro soldier is as heavy as the white soldier's— but the burden his family bears is far heavier. In war, the Negro American has given this nation his best—but this nation has not given him equal justice." There is a bill to be paid, in the form of open housing, better educational and job opportunities, and the end of discrimination, and it must be paid soon.

Papers say Negroes are less healthy than whites

WASHINGTON — In comparison to the white population, Negro Americans are less healthy due to the inferior medical care he receives, a shorter life expectancy, greater chance of his babies not to live, and possible fatality if he should contract tuberculosis, cancer or flu.

Statistics supporting this opinion were brought out during a two-day conference here recently on "The Health Status of the Negro Today and in the Future" sponsored by the College of Medicine of Howard University.

The Negroes' health disadvantage occurred despite progress in medical science, and increased Federal spending on hospitals and Medicare and re-education.

The widening health gap separating Negroes and Whites was pointed out by a group of physicians, scholars and public health officers, who prepared a series of papers outlining the subjects discussed at the seminars.

Noting that the Negro is at a grave health handicap even before he is born, the statistics showed that in 1963 the fetal death rate per 1,000 live births was 13.7 for the white population and 26.7 for the non-white.

Also, summed up in the report were the following basic facts: (1) Pregnant Negro mothers were four times as likely to die as pregnant white women; (2) More Negro babies die at birth, and more Negro mothers gave birth outside hospitals. In 1940, midwives delivered 14 times as many Negro babies as white babies. In 1960 they delivered 23 times as many; (3) Negro children see doctors and dentists far less frequently than do white children. Two out of three non-white children between five and 14 years old have never seen a dentist, and (4) The papers indicate that non-whites suffer disproportionately from the disease and tensions associated with life in the ghetto. At every age group the prevalence of hypertension is twice as great in the Negro population as in the white.

Syphilis was reported 10 times as great among Negroes as among whites. However, the group agreed that the difference in the health of non-whites and whites cannot be racially determined since with the same medical advantages Negro mothers can have successful pregnancies and children. It also said that modern medical science had failed to reach the American poor, and that Negroes are too poor to escape the health handicaps.

They are unable to afford private medical care and are forced to see help from public hospitals and charity.

The papers stated that these conditions seem to discourage the patients since waiting is not common. One doctor noted that clinic schedules are often arranged for the convenience of the medical physician and not the patient.

Further complicating the problem is the shortage of doctors and nurses and trained technicians, the report said. One conference aim was to discuss ideas to alleviate this shortage. Dr. Donald A. Cornely of Johns Hopkins University proposed radical alterations in traditional school health programs.

Dr. Cornely said that while the schools employ thousands of nurses on a full-time basis and hire thousands of doctors for part-time work, the medical care these professionals provide (at an estimated national cost of over $250 million a year) is in general limited to superficial screening.

The University physicians plan recommends providing full medical care in local schools, care that would be made available not only to the pupils but to the entire community.

Dr. Cornely suggested as an alternative that today's school health program is merely a referral service. The "overwhelming majority" of its functions, he writes, could be accomplished by sub-professionals without the need of physicians or nurses. Training of the sub-professionals was also discussed at the confab.

Dr. Jacob R. Fishman of Howard University wrote that training Negroes in the skills associated with home sanitation, nutrition, family care and health education would eventually put "a large portion of the health dollar in the hands of the poor as salary at the same time the dollar pays" for necessary services.

The conference was sponsored by Howard, the U. S. Public Health Service, and a number of private foundations.

CROSSROADS AFRICA DISCUSSION TOPIC ON NBC NETWORK

"Crossroads Africa—A Decade—What's Ahead?" will be discussed by Dr. James H. Robinson, executive director, Operation Crossroads Africa, on "Dorothy Gordon's Youth Forum" Sunday, April 9, on the NBC Radio Network, from 11:05 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

Local primary voters to have choice of mayoralty candidates

By ANDREW W. RAMSEY

It has been the rule in local politics that the voters have been given the choice between Tweedledum and Tweedledee in the primaries for the top city office and of course in the fall it has just been a matter of voting one's party ticket and the party getting out the largest vote elected the mayor.

As a rule the mayors chosen have not been evil or vicious men, they have often been inept and lacking the knowledge to function properly in the high office in which they found themselves with the blessing of the Establishment. They have usually earned their spurs by operating the city government on a policy of managed inaction.

Changes have occurred in the last few decades regarding the Negro in local politics but what has happened has not been due to the beneficence of the titular head of the city government but due to the historical backdrop in front of which these changes occurred and also to an ever increasing rise in the percentage of the Negro vote.

In the early days of this century, the Negro politician was more than likely an operator of an illicit business on the Avenue and all that the Negro got for his vote was some protection for the joints operated by the sepiu politicians. In the first two decades of the century only two Negroes held membership in the City Council. During the Klan period and for some years afterward occasionally there was a Negro in the Council but after 1946 there was a period of almost two decades with no Negro holding an elective job in the city administration.

It took the advent of the rights' revolution and the Negro's awareness of his political potential to elect two Negroes to the Council.

The desertion of the city by large numbers of whites and the increase of the Negroes numerical strength in the inner city and particularly Center Township made it very difficult for the politicians to ignore the aspirations of the Negro for participation in running the city.

None of the mayors in the knowledge of this observer has done anything particularly outstanding to advance the cause of the Negro. All have exploited the Negro vote and have promptly turned deaf ears to Negroes' pleas for a better shake.

It is true that in recent years Negroes have been getting bigger and bigger crumbs from the local political banquet table but much of it was due to pressure accruing from numbers and to a tiny bit of party pressure in a competitive field.

In the main it has been the Establishment which has operated the mayor's office without regard to the party of the incumbent.

But this year there is some change in many quarters that a change can be brought about. Both parties find the Establishment-oriented politics challenged by young aspirants to the office of mayor. The Marion County Chairman of the Republican Party has brought down the wrath of the old pros by endorsing the candidacy of Richard Lugar for the city executive office while Marion County Democratic Chief James Beatty has entered his own hat in the ring for the city's top office.

Both Lugar and Beatty are relatively unknown to the voters and have to hope that they can buck the organized political machine which cuts across party lines and tends to move the clock of the calendar back. Neither gentleman has particularly distinguished himself by leading in fight for Negro rights but both men are aware that we are in Indianapolis and in the world nearing the end of the seventh decade of the Twentieth Century and they are acutely aware of the currents which are moving in the world about us. Neither of their challengers, both of whom have held the job as Mayor of our city gives the appearance of being aware of just where we are in history.

From this point it seems that Negroes, labor and the poor people of this city have little to hope for if both the challengers are defeated in the primary and that a choice between Mr. Lugar and Mr. Beatty in November would mean that Indianapolis was poised to get off dead center.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The church began with power

REV. J. T. HIGHBAUGH SR.

(LARGER LESSON: (John 14:15-17, 25-27, 16:5-15; Acts 2:1-13; Gal. 5:16-25). LESSON PRINT: (Acts 2:1-11). GOLDEN TEXT: (John 14:26). TIME: A. D. 30. PLACE: Jerusalem.) Again here after the Ascension of our Lord the disciples were discouraged and afraid. Note these words: "for fear of the Jews" (John 20:19) and "when the door was shut" same scriptures.

This loneliness and fearful ness gripped them throughout the 40 days and was temporarily relieved when here and there sporadic visits were made by their risen Lord. But no doubt more perplexity was added to their deep down confusion when on the morning of Olives, He rose on a cloud and went to heaven.

Therefore our lesson is in response to this deep spiritual need. Therefore let us think of: I. In The Spirit On The Lord's Day (Lev. 23:15-22; Acts 2:1; Rev. 1:9-11). II. Power For Times Like These (Acts 2:2-6; John 20:19-23; Phil. 4:13). III. Power Of A Lifted Curse (Gen. 11:1-9; Acts 2:7-11; I. Cor. 12; Eph. 4:3).

IN THE SPIRIT OF THE LORD'S DAY. Many of us did not know the Lord of our day. Did we? I was in a home some years ago and it was Saturday evening. I noted that the children had gotten together their daddy's golf sticks and put them just inside the kitchen door. I heard the mother unconsciously say to the children: "You know tomorrow is your daddy's day out at the Links." But the Lord gave us His Day "the first day of the week" to share with Him without command. Please look here and see that 50 days after the Passover celebration the Spirit came.

Compare Lev. 23:15-22 and Acts 2:1 noting the words "Day of Pentecost had fully come." In addition read these scriptures to emphasize that our Lord's Day is the Christian day of worship (Matt. 28:1-9; Acts 2:1; I. Cor. 16:2-3; John 20:19-23; Acts 20:7; Rev. 1:9-11).

These scriptures prove that the Lord rose on the first day of the week and that the disciples and apostles met to worship him as Lord on the first day of the week. And this particular one by close study will convince you that the first Christians assembled to worship, witness, preach, take the Lord's Supper and look into the future of our fellowship and establish a system of support.

Bless be the tie that binds Our hearts in Christian love The fellowship of kindred minds Is like to that above.

POWER FOR TIMES LIKE THESE. Certainly I am sure that the rushing mighty wind effect filled all the houses where they were sitting. I have been in services like these myself. I too have seen people who seemed inert and docile, catch fire and speak out as though their tongue had been cut loose I know.

But this new helper of the saints goes deeper than this outside shake up. Let's see someone has said that power is with man the acquisition of ability to accomplish purpose. So here God had a purpose with these first Christians and He came through the Holy Spirit to accomplish certain purposes.

Let's look at some amazing

Do's And Don'ts

POWER OF A LIFTED CURSE. Three years ago I was in a home in Pittsburgh, Pa., for years I visited a home there where from a child one of the family had grown up tongue tied. He was an amiable boy but his sputtering, stuttering efforts to express himself made communication with him super difficult. So when I went in I was prepared for the ordeal though happy to meet him.

But oh me was not I floored when he with all the rest came out with the family and greeted me. At first I scared me and then I was happy and doubly happy for they told me a doctor specialist x-rayed his tongue, found the very proper ligament to cut and cut it loose and sent him to a retarded class and oh, the ability that was unearthed.

Well in our Genesis record, men were building towers and cities for a name for themselves and God went down and tied their tongue so they could not understand each other. When you bypass God you confuse yourself and He kept men confused and here He gives them a new start. He cuts the proper ligament and starts us witnessing rightly. So:

Have Thine own way Lord Have Thine own way Thou art the Potter I am the Clay.

The people I meet

BY BARON HARRIS

NEW YORK—Comedian ALLEN DREW is doubling in the Baby Grand and the Appolo Theatre which is quite a trick the two joints being but a block apart. We can think of an easier way to make a living. Dancer-comedian BUSTER BROWN is just back from Montreal, Quebec, in the dominion of Canada where he had a successful engagement at Rockhead's Paradise located at the corner of Mountain and St. Antoine streets there. This bistro is the only one in all of Canada owned and operated by a tan millionaire whose home plume is RUFUS ROCKHEAD. It will be interesting to see how much business he does during the Canadian Exposition. We hope to be in Europe this coming June but on returning we hope to work that exposition ourselves. We think it's going to be a lot better than the New York World's Fair. It's the very first exposition of this kind ever presented on the north American continent. Many tan variety artists plan to work up there during the time of its presentation and from here it seems that there will be more work for tan artists who choose to go there than there was for them here at the world's fair. Can it be that Canada is still a little less prejudiced than the powers that be here in the states. What fools some mortals be.

BEDLUM IN HARLEM—Since ADAM CLAYTON POWELL has said he will run again if the Congress refuses to seat him there has been unrest in Harlem here. The pressures that caused JAMES MEREDITH to bow out are going to be continued against anybody who opposes Powell. Harlem means for him to be the congressman from the 18th district and you can make book on that. The nucleus of Powell's lies in his two thousand member congregation of Abyssinia Baptist church where he pastors during vacations. He has reached a crossroad where he must make up his mind about some things or he might be in danger of losing some of his supporters. Regardless of chances Adam will come out victorious. Whitey cannot keep a good man down. Adam has championed the Black man's cause in this country for many a year. It's high time that he be allowed to rest on his laurels.

ROCKEFELLER'S PLIGHT—NELSON ROCKEFELLER, governor of the state of New York, has outlined a program to take the narcotic addicts off the streets by confining them for three years for treatment and rehabilitation. It has been proved that 47% of all the addicts in the United States are in New York City so if he can get any appreciable number of them off the streets he can use that as a plank in his platform when he vies for his party's nomination in order to run for President of this great country again. It seems that everybody thinks he has a chance against LBJ but BOB-KENNEDY should not be counted out as he just might

Cooke's widow files suit against firm

LOS ANGELES—Filing a suit for $4,000 in court here against the Travelers Insurance Company seeking payment on a double indemnity clause in her late husband's policy was the widow of the late rock and roll singer, Sam Cooke.

Mrs. Barbara Cooke Womack's husband lost his life after being fatally shot Dec. 11, 1964, by a motel owner here who thought he was trying to break into the building.

The 31-year-old woman contends the policy was issued through a performer's union and designates her as beneficiary. Double indemnity, or twice the value of an insurance policy, is paid to beneficiaries of a policy in the event of accidental death to allay the sudden grief resulting from such a death. An insurance company spokesman said the face value of Mr. Cooke's policy was $4,000, which was paid to the beneficiaries. The additional $4,000 sought by Mrs. Womack is based on the contention that Mr. Cooke's death was accidental, which the company disputes.

At the time of his death, it was estimated that Mr. Cooke's income was in excess of $500,000 a year.

The singer's slayer, Mrs. Bertha Franklin, was cleared in the shooting. A coroner's jury ruled that the musician's death was justifiable homicide. Police indicated that Mr. Cooke burst in on Mrs. Franklin in search of a companion, Miss Lisa Boyer, who was said to have been the singer's companion on the night of the shooting.

Mrs. Cooke married Bobby Dwayne Womack, 23, in 1965.

Ruby and the Romantics honored

Mayor John S. Ballard of Akron, Ohio, proclaimed a "Ruby and the Romantics Day" at City Hall in Akron last week in honor of the celebrated singers who are natives of Akron. The youthful artists, famous for their hit recording of "Our Day Will Come," had just returned from a highly successful tour of Europe and Canada and came for a visit with their parents. Said Mayor Ballard: "Ruby and the Romantics have been a great credit to the City of Akron by their personal conduct and artistic accomplishments all over Europe and the United States. By their hit recordings and personal appearances their day has come and these young people deserve the recognition by Press and public alike as being one of the most exciting singing groups in America. The citizens of Akron, Ohio, are proud of them."

LESLIE UGGAMS PLAY TO OPEN IN BOSTON

NEW YORK—Producers Albert Selden and Hal James announced that the Broadway-bound "Hallelujah, Baby!" starring Leslie Uggams, will play two weeks at the Colonial Theatre, beginning March 20, prior to New York opening April 26 at the Martin Beck Theatre. Show marks Miss Uggams' stage debut.

three months after Mr. Cooke's death.

Commenting on the suit, legal experts said the outcome of the case is "anybody's guess." They believe Mr. Cooke's death could be defined either way.

A native of Chicago, Mr. Cooke started his singing career as a gospel singer in Southside churches. His death spurred the sales of his last long-playing record called "Sam Cooke at the Copa."

The singer's brother, L. C. Cooke, has made several attempts to step into the singer's shoes. So far he has not been successful.

Two other brothers, Charles and David Cooke, were reported by police to have attacked Mrs. Womack and her husband Continued on Page 11

Jazz at Philharmonic coming to Clowes Hall Thurs., April 13

Impresario Norman Granz, recently announced that his original Classic JAZZ AT THE PHILHARMONIC—featuring renowned jazz artists in concert performance, resumes this year, and will be presented at Clowes Memorial Hall on Thursday, April 13 at 7:00 and 9:30.

Regarding the calibre of the 1967 show, Norman Granz says, "This Jazz at the Philharmonic tour is one of the most important I have ever produced, and will feature the epitome of artists ever assembled: Ella Fitzgerald, Duke Ellington, and the Oscar Peterson Trio, the Jimmy Jones Trio, and award-winning instrumentalists, who will be featured in solo presentations, and 'jam sessions': Coleman Hawkins, virtuoso of the tenor saxophone, Benny Carter, virtuoso of the alto saxophone, Zoot Sims, virtuoso of the tenor saxophone, and Clark Terry, virtuoso of the trumpet."

Ella Fitzgerald is one of the most respected interpreters of music today—she has completely bridged the gap between jazz and popular music. Ella's singing popularity is as strong in Europe and Japan—as it is in the United States. Yearly, she travels over the globe surpassing the classism in performance she has already set. There is no known award for singing-excellence that Ella Fitzgerald has not received. Ella is a modern day legend, and can interpret in her distinctive "true ear, clear voice," songs ranging from the complete works of Cole Porter—to her happy versions of the Beale tunes.

The international Duke Ellington, has been, for more than two score years, a composer - arranger - conductor of genius standing. He has been referred to as "one of the great American composers." The Duke has been responsible for scores of melodies, many of which are now popular standards — the familiar "Sophisticated Lady," "Mood Indigo," "Satin Doll," "Solitude," are considered part of musical culture. As with Ella Fitzgerald, Duke Ellington has been recipient of many awards.

IN JAZZ SHOW—Ella Fitzgerald and Duke Ellington and four of the worlds greatest jazz instrumentalists plus the Duke's orchestra are featured in the revival of Norman Granz' "Jazz at the Philharmonic" coming to Clowes Hall for two performances on Thursday, April 13 at 7:00 and 9:30 p.m.

Among the Stars

WITH LEE IVORY

The integrated music duo out of Chicago—George and Norma—have finally been tapped for a regular television show over an educational station, WTTW-TV.

This is the pair who have worked area elementary and high schools with their unique Operation H.E.P. (Higher Education Pays.)

The format is totally informal with attention-capturing tunes sung and played by George Rembert, a former Ink Spot, and a career guidance question-and-answer period conducted by Norma Nissen, an associate professor in the graduate division of Roosevelt university.

George and Norma also appeared on Easter Sunday on Channel 7, the ABC-network affiliate in Chicago.

The "Jazz Festival" in Cleveland at Leo's Casino was a real blast, according to my spies there. Cannonball Adderley, West (who looks like me) Montgomery, and the Young-Holt Trio gave their all for Leo, Jules, and the packed houses to which they played.

Said my personal spy: "I wonder why Red Holt and Eldee Young didn't leave Ramsey Lewis years ago! They have more fun playing their brand of music than anyone else in show business!"

Maxine Brown, my darling, came to Chicago this week for a round of parties, press conferences, television appearances and more parties.

In between the parties and stuff, she will maybe find time to make a few sets at the Plugged Nickel, where she is contracted to work.

Only, of course, if they don't interfere with the parties!

Leave it to the Temptations! At their last official party in Chicago, they managed to get

E. Rodney Jones to present them with a trophy taller than "all five of them put together." It was just a "Good Guy" kind of trophy and really has no significance—unless you are a Temptation, or an E. Rodney Jones.

These guys have been good to each other.

Liz Lands has signed with One-Der-Ful Records—and we are sitting on the fence wondering just what in heaven's name they think they're going to do with her.

Liz, the Yma Sumac of the bubble gum set, has a voice that defies verbal description, and more than one record company has lost its corporate mind trying to figure out "what should be done with her."

If the Leaner-controlled company allows hubby Tommy Brown to produce Miss Lands' sessions, the results may be gratifying to all concerned. Anyone else turned loose in the studio with the slender ultra-soprano-voiced demon may cause the downfall of the company.

Wonder what kind of press releases PR-gal Anne DuConque will write to announce the new pactee—if any!

In answer to a note from R. S., Atlanta: Marvin Gaye did not get the part in the new Broadway production starring Leslie Uggams because the producers said "he ain't ready" for the legitimate stage. Sorry 'bout that!

To B. B., Detroit: Mercury Records has a group called the Millionaires and they have recorded the tune "Shingalin," which is selling so fast that it may make the singers "Millionaires" before the year is out. The other tune you asked about is called "La, La, La" by Bobby Hebb, on Phillips label. According to Mr. Honey-mooning Hebb, the tune is "doing too swell," but he assured me that the next one will be a monster.

To M. D., Baltimore: The Duke of Earl has a lot of enemies and you are just one of thousands. I'm sure, however, he did not mean to snub you and, if you could have told him that you bought everything he's ever made, he might have rewarded you with a big grin. Forgive him. To R. T., Shreveport: Curtis Mayfield is now living and working out of Philadelphia. The Impressions are still working together and on friendly terms. Your information is quite erroneous.

To B. B., Los Angeles: Meet me at the Americana hotel, NYC, May 4-8, and I'll give you the lowdown on Haiti and the new thing that's about to happen here for all he players. See you Among the Stars!

beat out LBJ for the democratic party's nomination. If that would happen it would certainly be the "bitter end" for Pres. Johnson. However Johnson is a political fox and he can be looked on to pull chestnuts out of the fire when there are expected to be none. We shall see what we shall see.

THERE ARE RELATIVES AND THEN THERE ARE RELATIVES—Our sister, DR. AURELIA HARRIS, came to town to attend a national meeting of regional directors of her sorority. She snacked up in the Statler-Hilton and when she was not attending important meetings we were able to make her hours happy. We hadn't seen each other in twenty-two years and that's a long time. The reason for the time being so long is we refuse to go south to visit anyone because we just cannot accept race prejudice in any form. Regardless of her popularity there in Ft. Worth, Texas, where she resides, we feel that we might encounter some bad experiences if we went there. She has her own clinic and is doing quite well but we'll see her when she gets back up here. She's a wonderful woman and we love her dearly and we live now to bring a few rays of sunshine into her life before she gets to be an old lady. She's only a few years our senior but we are concerned about her physical welfare. God grant that her days may be long on this terra firma where she has labored so long and so diligently. She's a peach.

THAT'S FOR THE BIRDS—We have been toying with the idea of purchasing a Mynah bird and teaching it to sing. It represents a challenge because of all the pets we've had over the years we have never taught any of them a single thing. They sell here on sale for $19.98 and elsewhere they cost $100.00 or more. That's New York for you. Can you imagine us standing on stage with a Mynah bird perched on our shoulder singing Old Man River? That would be the most' and how about teaching it a comedy routine? That would be something to write home about. By the way if anyone there in Naptown would like to purchase a Mynah bird send me your name and address, which you can get by telephoning The Recorder, and when they have the next sale we'll inform you by long distance and you can order it from Blumstein's yourself. Nuff said!

We've saved the best remarks for our last paragraph. Ace basketball player WALT BEL-LAMY, star center of the New York Knickerbockers, and I are very close friends and see each other often. We don't mind saying that he has certainly done his share all season long. We know because during each home game we are perched on a seat in the "promenade" or we're very comfortably seated at court-side at the "press table" which is reserved for the "working press." We're treated with the utmost courtesy and most times ours is the only black face at that table. We've seen BIG WALT have his ups and downs but few realize that when he plays the game he does so under annoying pain in the foot that was operated on for a "bone spur"

WHALING AT ZANZIBAR—The fabulous Presidents are currently whaling every Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Zanzibar Lounge, formerly the Pink Poodle, located in downtown Indianapolis at 252 N. Capitol Avenue.

Otis Redding Object of Suit

Otis Redding is the center of attraction in a half-million dollar lawsuit filed against Joe Glaser and Associated Booking by Shaw Artists Corporation. SAC charges JG and ABC with acting as agents for O.R. and accepting commissions for engagements they procured for the singer while knowing he was under contract to SAC. Redding has become one of the top artists in the country and his latest series of hits include "Try A Little Tenderness," "My Lover's Prayer," and the Rolling Stones' "Satisfaction."

in a Southside motel. They accused the widow of "harboring" facts concerning the singer's death. Informed sources said the attack was the result of ill will generated by the widow's marriage to the then 21-year-old Mr. Womack.

According to a spokesman of the RCA Victor Record Company, his last disc was one of the firm's biggest sellers. It reportedly sold over a million and is still being played on juke boxes throughout the country.

After his death some of the corporations Mr. Cooke owned were beset by litigations, forcing them to go out of business. Mr. Cooke's Hollywood-based recording studios, publishing companies, and a fledgling personal management office.

The management of the companies that remain came under the control of one of Mr. Cooke's former business partners, J. W. Alexander. It was speculated that Mr. Cooke's yearly earnings would have climbed above the million mark had he lived.

JIM BROWN SIGNS KINGSTON, Jamaica—Former football star Jim Brown has been signed for a film role in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production of "Dark of the Sun." It was announced last week. He will join South African actor Bloke Modisane in supporting role in the dramatic film starring Rod Taylor and Yvette Mimieux.

or something like that. However he never complains but we know what he's going through and it only makes us respect him more and more. What's more, Walt is a gentleman off the basketball court but when his opponents get a little unruly, Big Walt gets as rough as the rest of them. He really holds his own against Wilt Chamberlain and "The Stilt" really respects "Big Walt" and you can make book on that. Well it's once again time to let our typewriter's forty-nine keys rest and our finger tips too. We hope to be back next week with an exclusive and pictures about CASSIUS (MURHAMMAD ALI) CLAY. We promise that it'll be interesting and informative. Until that time see if you can dream up what our exclusive will be about and for diversion we'll be dreaming about our favorite beat, Sunset Boulevard in Hollywood, U.S.A., the city of make believe.

Jazz at Philharmonic

lent of awards from virtually every poll, as leader, composer, arranger and pianist.

Oscar Peterson, considered to be, by many critics the greatest living jazz pianist (he has captured every award for piano excellence) has recorded for posterity, his interpretations of the musical endeavors of George and Ira Gershwin, Leonard Bernstein, and lastly—Duke Ellington.

It was through the Forties, and Fifties that the international jazz at the Philharmonic tours received acclaim. This jazz classic elevated the performing integrity, and stature of the dedicated jazz performer. The Jazz at the Philharmonic series instilled the musical form of jazz as an important contemporary force whose concept ever follows today.

Other dates to be announced for Jackie Wilson Revue minus B. B. King, who opens at the New York Apollo Theatre on Friday, April 28th for a one week stanza.

Marvie Josie-Spider Turner cut one apiece for Julmar

NEW YORK — Julmar and Goodtime Records, a new disk firm bowed (this week) in New York with Julius Dixon and Erich Reich at the helm. Dixon, a veteran of over 20 years in the music industry formerly headed City Records in Baltimore, Maryland. Reich is a prominent New York attorney and a former member of the U. S. Supreme Court.

The company's first releases "Oohbiskubido" on Julmar Records by Marva Josie and "I've Got To Get Myself Together" by Spider Turner on Goodtime Records have already taken off with great rapidity and success in Baltimore, Md., New Jersey and Pittsburgh, Pa.

The duo of bright-talented young artists are no newcomers to the disk industry. Miss Josie, a native of Clairton, Pa., enjoyed a nationwide splash with her 1966 smasheroo "Crazy Stockings." Spider Turner, a Detroit boy is still a cut up on the charts with his "Stand By Me" epic on MGM records.

Turner cut his aforementioned selection "I've Got To Get Myself Together" that's backed with "When I See You Baby" for Mr. Dixon prior to hooking up with the MGM label. Dixon acquired Spider's contract from Ruth and Charles (a mother and son business associates) Stokes, who were then his handlers, October, 1965, and launched a recording session that resulted in the cutting of a series of tunes yet to be released.

Gary man is 1st Miss. State alumnus prexy

GARY—When John A. Peoples of this city officially took over as president of the Jackson (Mississippi) State College, it marked the first time an alumnus has been named head master and doctoral degrees from the University of Chicago. The educator has twice appeared in "Who's Who in American Education" and was named one of the "Outstanding Men of America" in 1965 by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Peoples has published articles in leading scholarly journals and has been a group leader at an annual meeting of the Association for higher education.

Mr. and Mrs. Peoples are the parents of two children, Kathleen, 14, and Mark, 6.

JOHN A. PEOPLES JR. Mississippi College Head of the 90-year-old institution.

Mr. Peoples, a former Gary school teacher and principal, became the college's sixth president. Jackson State is a senior level, state supported college with an enrollment of 2,300.

Like Mr. Peoples, his wife, the former Mary Elizabeth Galloway, is a graduate of Jackson State and native of Mississippi.

Mr. Peoples taught mathematics in the Gary school system from 1951 to 1958 and was principal of Banneker School from 1958 until 1962. He was lecturer at the University of Michigan in 1964, the same year he accepted the vice-president's post at Jackson State.

Besides his BS degree—with highest honors—from Jackson State, Mr. Peoples also has his

Kentucky centenarian marks 100th birthday

HENDERSON, Ky. — Although she celebrated her 100th birthday Saturday, March 4, Mrs. Ada Johnson of this city is still active for her age. On hand to congratulate the centenarian and present her gifts were many relatives.

Gerstmeyer senior recipient of grant

TERRE HAUTE—Among 292 outstanding Negro students nationwide who won four-year college scholarships in the third National Achievement Scholarship program was Kenneth M. Stanley of this city, a student of Gerstmeyer High Achievement Program is a part. Presently the Gerstmeyer senior is serving as president of the Student Council after being on its executive board the previous year. He attended the Student Council Workshop last summer at Indiana University and was a representative of Gerstmeyer to Boys' State in 1966.

Recently he was elected to membership in the National Honor Society, ranking in the upper 10 per cent of a class of 305. The scholar aspires to major in humanities but has not chosen his special field, although Harvard is his first college choice with Dartmouth second.

He attended Deming School and McLean Junior High School before entering Gerstmeyer where he has been on the basketball squad all three years.

Mr. Stanley is the oldest of four children and has two brothers and a sister. The youth was chosen all-conference forward in the Western Indiana Conference for the current school year and was all-conference forward in 1966 on the second team. He scored 370 points for Gerstmeyer this year, an average of 19.4 a game. Last season he had a total of 263 points, a 13.8 a game average. He received the Varsity Rebound Trophy in his junior year. He also played center field on the school's baseball team in 1965-66.

Aid given to each student is individually determined according to his need and may range from $250 to $1,500 a year. Average first year stipend of the 1966 Achievement Scholars was $1,185.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Should every woman be a blonde?

Blonde hair is beautiful for those women whose natural coloring it flatters. But not everyone should be a blonde.

Expert beauticians know that complexion and hair color must complement each other to glamorize and bring out all the natural beauty that was meant to be. They also know that very coarse and dark hair often is resistant to drastic color changes. However, there's no doubt about slightly lighter hair adding excitement to a woman's appearance. And hairdressers know there is no better product to add a whole new appeal to every woman's look than Miss Clairol® haircoloring—extra rich Creme Formula or new extra easy Shampoo Formula.

Both Miss Clairol products lighten and color at once, combining vibrant new color with the natural pigment of the hair. So even those shades that look blonde on white hair (as shown on most color selection charts) give a variety of flattering red-to-golden brown shades on women whose hair was black to begin with.

Beauty salons are equipped to answer questions and help with hair color selection. Depend on your hairdresser to have the professional skills and the total family of fine Clairol products to make every woman's experience with haircoloring completely personal and glamorous. Should you be a blonde? If you don't really know, ask your expert hairdresser.

for the children of the inner-city is certain to come," Cummings predicted. . . "The quality of education in the inner-city schools is vastly lower than that in any other part of the county," the former journalist charged. . . For the most part neither the parents nor the children of these schools have real respect for the education potential there. The enforced image of inferiority denies these children hope for self esteem and thwarts their aspirations for self realization, he asserted. . . "Only seven percent of the total population in 18 inner-city schools qualified for entrance to Shortridge high school," Cummings stated. Shortridge, beginning with the September 19-66 semester has been structured as an academic school. Students now must meet certain achievement standards and must pass tests to qualify for entrance. Cummings predicted: "In the not too distant future an all-out assault will be made upon demand improvement of the quality of inner-city schools, together with a systematic program guaranteeing racial balance in the local schools." Cummings, who started his career as a reporter with The Recorder is now Director of Public Relations for the Board for Fundamental Education, a national organization working in 29 states. . .

Mixed schools or lose Federal aid: Howe

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The United States Education Commission has tightened up its requirements that Southern schools integrate their schools or face the loss of assistance.

Harold Howe II, U.S. education commissioner, said March 16 that schools in 17 southern and border states must double the racial integration of their teaching staffs next fall to qualify for federal school aid.

A statement of this policy was sent in February to state school superintendents with authority over 1,700 school districts that apply the so-called "free-choice desegregation plan."

A minimum of two white teachers must be assigned to each predominantly Negro school, and vice versa, consistent with the requirement. This school semester a one-teacher racial swap was required.

Mr. Howe emphasized in his letter that the requirement was merely a "rough guide to expected progress" and that individual problems will be considered in the case of each school system.

Administrative procedures were proposed against districts considered to be below over-all federal integration standards.

Complaints resulting in the ruling included those that desegregation was not progressing steadily, the existence of small, inadequate segregated schools and unequal programs, building programs that perpetuate racial segregation, and discriminatory pupil and teacher transfer.

Colleges should aid in solving
Negro problems

NEW YORK — Dr. McGeorge Bundy, president of the Ford Foundation, in his first annual report since he assumed presidency pointed out a need for urban universities to take the lead in resolving the related problems of the municipalities and minorities.

The distinguished leader also announced that the Ford Foundation will cut its spending.

Dr. Bundy pointed to "a special obligation" to help put the urban universities "at the forefront of intelligent concern for the interlocking problems of the city and the Negro."

TEACHER IS BURIED
AFTER LAST RITES

An Indianapolis public school teacher, Mrs. Helene Martin, was buried after last rites conducted March 22 in King and King Funeral Home. She died March 20 in Methodist Hospital.

A life-long resident of Indianapolis, Mrs. Martin taught at School 63 for the last four years. She was a graduate of West Virginia State College and was a member of the Indiana State Teachers Association. She was also a member of the Association for Childhood Education and Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

Surviving are her husband, Richard; two sons, Clay and Troy; a daughter, Janice, and mother, Mrs. Lucille Dawson.
